Marines Scour Viet Plain, Cong Scarce

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Marine divisions working out of Da Nang and Chu Lai broke up into numerous small units today in a new search for the elusive Viet Cong and reported that 581 various operations turned up only a handful of the enemy.

The Leathernecks conducted patrols, laid ambushes, set up listening posts, scout, sniper and search and destroy missions in the central coastal plains once bristling with bands of Viet Cong.

They killed eight Viet Cong, captured two and got two weapons. Eight sampans were sunk.

The experience of the Marines was duplicated by the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmotile, Division in a two-brigade search for a North Vietnamese regiment which put up a stiff fight in the Chu Phong mountains along the Cambodian border. But now the enemy regiment apparently has chosen to fade away.

The only contact made today was a flash fight with a platoon. Rick Merron reported one company of the Air Cavalry ran into the platoon at 1 p. m. only about 100 yards from the spot where the troopers killed more than 100 of the enemy Wednesday. The firefight was brisk but brief. Nine Viet Cong were killed.

Minor Contact

The 2nd Brigade of the 25th Infantry Division scouring 25 miles northwest of Saigon also failed to uncover any major Viet Cong units. But it had minor contact today when an enemy grenade attack was launched from ambush. The infantry retorted in kind, killing two Viet Cong and capturing a Chinese Communist carbine, four U.S. hand grenades and documents.

The infantry also counted two dead Viet Cong snipers during the day. One was shot from an armed helicopter. A tunnel complex yielded 400 tons of rice.

U.S. Marines landed on the southern coast of the special zone called Rung Sat and worked up to 18 miles south of Saigon. They encountered no resistance during the day but sent back word they had found an extensive system of campsites, bunkers, arms caches and supply dumps. Demolition squads blew them up.

Increasing Pattern

This is the increasing pattern of the growing American ground power forcing the Viet Cong to quit their old sanctuaries and then rendering those havens inoperable.

Forty three missions, 34 of them by the Air Force and 9 by Navy carrier planes, were flown Friday over North Viet Nam's roads, bridges and supply lines. Poor weather restricted observation of bomb damage. Most of the drops were done by radar control through heavy haze and cloud cover.

Bombed Roads

The Air Force bombed roads in the Mugia Pass, the funnel that leads toward the Ho Chi Minh Trail, and set off explosions in hitting the Houi Nhinh staging area 105 miles northwest of Vinh. Air Force bombers also attacked a truck park 105 miles west of Hanoi. Antiaircraft fire was thrown up and one flight of Phantoms spun off and silenced the site.

Navy pilots damaged and ran aground a North Vietnamese freighter on a river 32 miles south of Thanh Hoa. Another flight destroyed a 50-foot motorized junk 69 miles northwest of Dong Hoi and damaged the Nam Huan highway bridge 12 miles north of Vinh.

B52 bombers assaulted two suspected enemy base camps today in Quang Tri Province. The strikes were 40 miles west of Hue and only four kilometers from the 17th Parallel border. A spokesman said the sector has long been an infiltration assembly point.

During the day, U.S. Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance arrived in Saigon for

10,000 March At Da Nang; Score Regime

By GEORGE ESPER

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Some 10,000 demonstrators, including a number of uniformed South Vietnamese soldiers, paraded through the streets of Da Nang today, carrying signs criticizing the Saigon government and the United States. Smaller demonstrations were held in Hue and Saigon.

A group of Boy Scouts at Da Nang carried a sign reading: "Down with the Americans' attempt of objecting to the forming of a Vietnamese National Assembly."

Includes Monks, Nuns

Other marchers included Buddhist monks and nuns and about 2,000 South Vietnamese soldiers, sailors and officers up to the rank of major.

In Saigon, medical students held a clamorous antigovernment meeting where speakers criticized the conduct of American soldiers in the city. In the old imperial capital of Hue, 50 miles north of Da Nang, 3,000 persons demonstrated for a return to civilian government through national elections. The demonstrations were similar to others held recently throughout the country.

All the demonstrations have been openly hostile to the central government headed by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, and the anti- American overtones have become increasingly louder.

Thousands have taken part in the marches, but observers here and elsewhere have come up with no estimate as yet of the general support of the street rallies.

Well Planned

Many observers, however, agree that the demonstrations are directed from a central source, that they have been well planned and are as well organized as any that have ever taken place in Viet Nam.

Meanwhile, an anti-Communist youth group composed mostly of catholic students distributed leaflets in Saigon today, criticizing a predominant-

Youth Will Face Larceny Charges For Auto Thefts

A 16-year-old youth apprehended Friday by state troopers at Fort Montgomery was turned over to Kingston State Police to face charges of grand larceny first degree involving motor vehicle thefts.

Sergeant Henry S. Rhodes said Mark Steven Washburn, who gave addresses of 201 Seymour Street, Syracuse, and North Hornell, was arraigned before Police Justice Ernest E. Schirmer, Saugerties, and was ordered held for grand jury action.

Abandons Truck

According to Sergeant Rhodes, Washburn allegedly left North Hornell yesterday morning in a pickup truck that was reported stolen. He reportedly drove the truck to Syracuse where he abandoned it and in that city he allegedly stole a 1962 car.

Washburn, authorities said,

Jehovah's Witnesses Open Weekend Parley Last Night

Alfred Schwegler, 11-year-old, from Kingston was a featured speaker on the model Ministry School conducted as part of the opening sessions of the three-day circuit convention of Jehovah's Witnesses at the Municipal Auditorium Friday night.

More than 700 persons were on hand when John Gibbard, district minister from Brooklyn, delivered his address of welcome on the subject "Make Disciples of People of All the Nations" after which he served as instructor for the Ministry School program.

The school is conducted each week by every congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses world-wide for the training of ministers and missionaries, men and women, young and old in the teaching methods used by Christ and His apostles. Students learn how to speak on Bible subjects from the public platform, teach from door to door and conduct Bible discussions in the homes of interested persons.

Included on the two-hour program last night from Kingston were Robert Farns and Keith Memier who related their experiences in the ministry. Ernest Kidd discussed the varieties of opportunities a Christian has to teach others God's Word. Walter Carter and Richard Dykstra concluded the sessions with brief staged dramatizations showing by example the most effective methods of stimulating interest in the Bible and application of Bible principles to every day living. Assisting in the skits were Ann Berube and Linda Van De Bogart, all Kingston residents.

Attendance is expected to swell to over 800 tonight when John Gibbard, district minister from the world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses in Brooklyn, explains and demonstrates "Starting and Continuing Bible Studies."

More than 1,000 are expected for the convention highlight Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a public Bible talk by Gibbard on the subject, "Does God Have Influence in This Twentieth Century?" According to convention spokesmen all seats are free and open to the public. Anyone interested in the Bible is cordially invited to attend.

Expect Rail Strike Near End Despite Litigations

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 38-state railroad strike today entered its third day but resumption of service appeared near despite a fresh dispute over possible court action against the striking firemen's union.

Gilbert said he was awaiting reports from vice presidents of his AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, who were getting in touch with the individual railroads. "I am certain agreement will be reached," he said.

A union spokesman noted the outcome hinged on results of eight separate meetings with officials of the eight railroads, however, and he said most of the day might be required to arrange and complete them.

Not until agreement has been reached with all eight railroads, will a time for ending the strike be fixed, he said.

The spokesman expressed regret that Wolfe, as chief negotiator for the railroads, had not "seized the opportunity to wrap this thing up fast by handling all these through his office."

No Authority

Wolfe reported he had no authority for such action, the union spokesman said, adding that lack of such an arrangement will have the effect of prolonging the walkout for 24 hours.

The strike was against these eight railroads: Union Pacific, the country's longest; the Missouri Pacific; Illinois Central; Seaboard Air Line; Central of Georgia; Grand Trunk Western; Boston and Maine; and the Pennsylvania Railroad west of Harrisburg, Pa.

The strike disrupted service caused some 100,000 persons to on 43,000 miles of line and bit into the nation's economy. It be thrown off their jobs or work a shorter day, resulted in traffic jams, tied up freight movements, stranded passengers and delayed the mails.

In Philadelphia, a Transport Workers Union local struck the Pennsylvania Railroad after 30 freight car inspectors were laid off because of the national strike. A union spokesman said about 1,000 non-operating union members were involved.

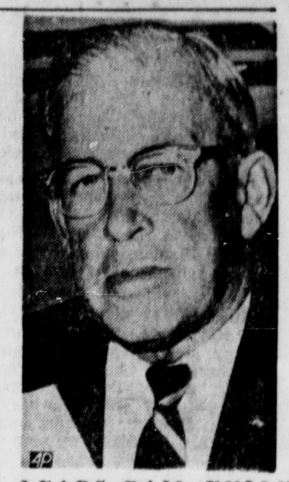

Firemen walked off their jobs at 12:01 a.m. Thursday on expiration of a 1963 federal arbitration board ruling that carriers could eliminate up to 90 per cent of their yard and freight firemen. Since then, about 18,000 firemen's jobs have been wiped out.

Gilbert said the strike was called because carriers would not negotiate on a union demand for an apprentice training pro-

Rail Tieup Slows Nation's Pulse In Wide Areas; Thousands Idled

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The biggest and most damaging rail strike in 20 years markedly slowed the pulse of the nation's commerce today. It had idled thousands of workers, delayed mail, halted food shipments and caused slowdowns in industrial production.

An Associated Press survey indicated that at least 200,000 workers were either out of work or had received lay-off notices.

Hard Hit

The automotive industry was hard hit. More than 100,000 workers were reported laid off or on short shifts. General Motors closed seven plants Friday and put 10 more on short shifts. A GM spokesman reported that 60,300 workers had been affected.

Ford canceled planned overtime work Saturday at five assembly plants. A company spokesman said all assembly and stamping plants would have to be closed if the strike continued over the weekend.

At Twinsburg, Ohio, a Chrysler stamping plant was closed Friday and 1,300 workers were sent home.

The strike ended the auto industry's hope of making this week the biggest in 1966 auto production. The strike cost the industry between 10,000 and 15,000 units in this week's planned production. The target had been 204,103 cars.

Closed Operations

American Motors closed its Kelvinator appliance operations at Grand Rapids, Mich., and laid off 2,800 workers.

The strike hit at lumber mills, grain handlers, the aluminum industry and chemical firms in Oregon and Washington, especially those served by the Union Pacific Railroad.

A railroad spokesman said many of the firms would have to shut down if the strike continues into next week. The Union Pacific is the only railroad affected by the strike in the Pacific Northwest.

Ammunition shipments to Viet Nam will not be delayed by the strike, a union spokesman said.

In Portland, Ore., Judge John F. Kilkenny of U.S. District Court issued a temporary restraining order against the picketing of the Guilds Lake yard and the Union Station yard in Portland. The injunction was obtained by the Portland Termi-

Accuse Students After Disorder At Paltz Friday

Four college students were arrested Friday night by New Paltz police, who reported they broke up a fight on Main Street in that village.

Patrolman Silas Countryman of the village police reported the arrests of Donald H. Darbee, 22, of Blue Point, Long Island; Edward Martin Hymowitz, 20, Brooklyn; James Andrew Matthews, 21, Albany, and Lewis J. Baer, 21, Lindenhurst, L.I.

Darbee was charged with disorderly conduct. He pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Rexford Schneider and was fined $25. Hymowitz, booked by town and village police on a charge of disorderly conduct, pleaded innocent and was commited to jail in lieu of $50 bail.

Matthews was arrested by Patrolman Robert Gerdes on a public intoxication charge. In lieu of $50 bail he was committed to jail pending a hearing at a later date.

Baer, arrested by Patrolman Countryman on a charge of public intoxication, was committed to jail in lieu of $50 bail. He will appear for hearing at a later date before Judge Schneider.

Court Paroles Two Jailed For Peddling U. S. Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Biochemist Harry Gold and one-time Foreign Service officer Irvin C. Scarbeck, sentenced to long prison terms for passing U.S. secrets to Communist countries, have been ordered freed on parole next month.

The Federal Board of Parole Friday granted them freedom — Scarbeck on May 2, Gold on May 18 — from the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa. Both were convicted after sensational national security trials.

Gold, 55, a native of Switzerland, received a 30-year sentence Dec. 9, 1950, after he had been convicted of conspiring with Klaus Fuchs and others to deliver U.S. defense secrets to the Soviet Union from 1943 to 1947. He has served 15 years and will remain under parole supervision until July 1980.

Scarbeck, 45, a Brooklyn, N.Y., native, is serving three concurrent 10-year terms for providing classified documents to the Polish security police while he was serving as second secretary of the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw. He has been in prison for 4½ years and will remain under parole supervision until February 1973.

The parole board said the two had good prison records and had been helpful in prison programs.

Gold pleaded guilty and, after his arrest, cooperated with the FBI in investigating Fuchs, David Greenglass and Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. He testified at the trial of the Rosenbergs, who were executed in the electric chair for their role in peddling U.S. atomic secrets to the Russians.

Convicted in 1961

Scarbeck was convicted Oct. 27, 1961, after a widely publicized trial in which his Polish mistress testified.

A married man with three children by his second wife, Scarbeck said he had submitted to demands by Red agents for the classified documents to spare his family and protect his Polish mistress. Testimony developed that Polish authorities had threatened to imprison her.

The woman, Urszula Marie Discher, was brought here from Poland to testify at the trial. Afterwards she returned to Poland.

Scarbeck was originally sentenced to 30 years in prison, but a federal appeals court ordered the trial court to reduce his sentence to three concurrent 10-year terms.

Expect SR Store Contract Parley To Resume Today

Pickets went into their second day of activities today at the strikebound Shop Rite stores at both the Town of Ulster and Port Ewen locations, according to a store spokesman.

Meanwhile, it was expected that both union and management representatives at the Shop Rite stores and the other two supermarket chains affected by the labor dispute—Good Deal and Foodtown—would possibly continue further contract talks.

Stores Remain Open

Richard Bentley, manager of Shop Rite's Town of Ulster store on Route 9W north of Kingston, told The Freeman this morning that the store would continue in operation throughout the day with supervistory personnel doing the work of the striking employes, as was done Friday. He said the same was true at the Port Ewen store.

Some 100 employes failed to report for work when the Ulster store opened Friday, while another 65 failed to report at the Port Ewen store.

Pickets armed with placards staged an orderly demonstration at the stores, urging potential customers not to patronize the stores. No incidents were reported.

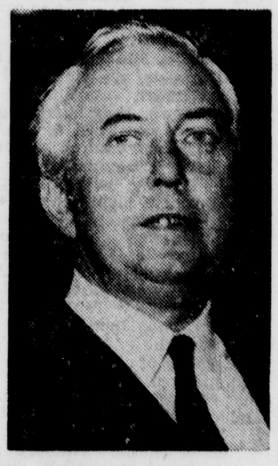

Sheriff's deputies detailed at both stores Friday and today, reported no incidents up to shortly before noon.

10,000 In Walkout

How many employees of the three supermarket chains would be affected by the strike wasn't immediately known, but union spokesmen said that most of its 10,000 members employed in the markets were expected to participate in the walkout.

Some 250 stores in the New Jersey area north to the Hudson Valley are involved in the dispute with the striking union—The Retail Store Employes Union.

Store officials maintained that in the absence of the union employes, they would continue to perform the latter's work which entails everything from stocking shelves to checking out customers.

HAROLD WILSON

Some British Cabinet Shifts Are Likely But No Drastic Changes Anticipated

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson was said to be considering possible Cabinet shifts today and observers predicted it was unlikely he would make any drastic changes.

There was speculation that he may retire some old Labor party warhorses to the House of Lords to make room for younger men. No names were mentioned.

There was also general agreement that Wilson's new team is unlikely to be made up of doctrinaire Socialists.

Wilson's landslide victory in the national election Thursday was due largely to votes from the younger middle class.

They are eager for radical social change but of a strictly liberal and progressive kind that can solve the nation's economic ills. Old type Socialist ideas have little appeal to them.

Whatever changes Wilson decides on will have to be made quickly. Parliament opens April 21 and ministers must get ready to draw up a legislative program.

This is expected to contain some tough measures. Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan already is shaping an annual budget for presentation early in May.

It is expected to be the most rugged since World War II with prospects of high taxes and a variety of measures to galvanize industry and boost output.

It remains to be seen whether Wilson's new strength in Parliament will hamper his efforts to deal with the nation's economic malaise.

His previous slim grip on power was a restraining influence on the left wing of his party.

Now firebrands may pressure him to modify or abandon the moderate policies he has so far pursued.

For the past 17 months, Wilson has governed with a majority of only three votes in the 630-seat House of Commons. With only one electoral district still to declare its result, the Labor party had a 98-seat majority in the new Parliament.

The party standings were: Labor 363 seats, a gain of 48; Conservatives 252, loss of 51;

Eases Water Ban But Sees Threat Of More Drought

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Water restrictions imposed on residents of this city last summer have been eased, but Mayor Erastus Corning cautions that the Northeast drought still is a threat and water must be conserved.

The mayor Friday announced that Albany residents will be permitted to use water for lawns, gardens, and to wash automobiles. He said, however, that the use of automatic lawn sprinklers still would not be permitted.

The restrictions were imposed last summer, when the four-year-old drought forced many cities across this state and others to pass ordinances curtailing the use of water.

In addition, Corning said, no new permits would be issued for the installation of water-cooled air conditioners or ice-making machines.

Rocky Declares $4 Million Surplus, Levitt Sees Deficit

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller says New York State finished the 1965-66 fiscal year with a $4 million surplus, but State Comptroller Arthur Levitt contends it closed with a deficit of more than $17 million.

The Republican governor and the Democratic official made public their annual reports Friday.

Levitt, long a critic of Rockefeller's fiscal programs, insisted that the state showed a loss of $17,477,397 in the fiscal year that ended Thursday.

The comptroller explained that the discrepancy in the two reports resulted from the governor's including revenue from the sale of bonds as regular income.

This income should be itemized separately in outlining the over-all fiscal picture, Levitt said.

Both Rockefeller and Levitt drew their conclusions from the same source.

The governor's report showed that total income reached $3,464,000,000, of which $3,345,000,000 was from current taxes and fees, and $119 million from bonds, while expenditures totaled $3,460,000,000.

Levitt, however, showed total income to be $3,323,000,000 and expenditures $3,341,000,000.

Levitt terms the nearly $18-million difference in his income and outgo figures an "excess of expenditures over income."

Rockefeller counted a $21,3-million repayment of expenditures for the South Mall project in Albany as regular income and the difference between that and the "excess of expenditures" resulted in the governor's $4 - million excess, Levitt said.

In his report, the governor also outlined these expenses:

—$1,006,000,000 to operate the government and its agencies.

—$293 million for construction projects, including highways.

—$35 million in interest payments on state bonds.

—$2,126,000,000 for aid to municipalities.

In his report, Levitt said the 2 per cent sales tax brought a total of $298 million since it took effect last August.

In addition, the net collec-

7 Churches Figure In Merger Outline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of seven Protestant churches with a total of 25 million members have outlined plans to merge. But one bishop estimated complete unification may take at least 50 years.

The churches have been working on the plan for four years, it was disclosed Friday. Representatives of the seven denominations will meet in Dallas, Tex., May 2-5 to continue discussions.

List Denominations

The denominations are the Protestant Episcopal Church, the United Presbyterian Church, the Methodist Church, the International Convention of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), Evangelical United Brethren Church, the United Church of Christ, and the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

The long-range nature of the proposal was emphasized at a news conference here Friday by Episcopal Bishop Robert F. Gibson Jr. of Richmond, Va., chairman of the Consultation on Church Union, a special commission appointed to draft a unification plan. He was joined by the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, a Presbyterian and general secretary-elect of the World Council of Churches.

They unveiled a 105-page document relating to unification and dealing with such theological subjects as sacraments and baptism. It will be discussed further at the Dallas meeting, the fifth such consultation on possible unity of the denominations.

"This is not a plan of union."

Term Easter Buying Pace Here Better

By CHARLES M. McCARTHY
Freeman Staff Writer

Brisk as the current weather — that might be the best way to describe the current pre-Easter shopping pace in Kingston area retail stores.

Or, more consistent with the early Spring season: "Better than last year."

Few Exceptions

Almost without exception, managers and other officials of area stores reported increases in sales over 1965 Eastertide and even over the past few weeks.

A spot survey by the Freeman turned up these sample observations:

Caldor, which opened only recently off Route 9W in the Town of Ulster: "We are very well satisfied and have received a very fine reception in this area."

Montgomery Ward & Co., long established in the Kingston area and located nearby Caldor: "Business is very good. We are ahead of last year for sales during this season and have had a general increase in recent weeks."

Shop-Rite, also located in the growing 9W shopping area: "Business has been exceptional. We are busy the year-around."

Over Last Year

Big Scot off Rt. 28 near the Thruway: "Buhiness is better than last year." The store noted that apparel — a popular item just before Easter — was continuing in its appeal to customers.

Hi-Lo Department Store, Port Ewen: "We're a little bit ahead of last year. We expect a good season."

Britts Department Store, Kingston Shopping Plaza on the outskirts of the Uptown shopping area: "This weekend and next should be the big weeks."

Many store managers noted that the heaviest consumer traffic would move as the holiday neared, and that the weather and proximity of the school vacation period were important factors in the shopping trend.

This was particularly true in the shoe business—a highly popular business about this time. A

Bill Could Save Hudson Valley Industry Taxes

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, today introduced a bill that would provide needed tax savings to three Hudson Valley companies presently manufacturing light aggregate, a basic building material.

The bill would amend the Internal Revenue Code to treat sintering or burning as a mining process in the case of shale, clay, and slate, the materials used in making light-weight concerte aggregate. The effect of this amendment would be to raise the 5 per cent depletion allowance now imposed on this material at an arbitrary point in its manufacture, and relieve the companies of a significant financial burden.

Three in Valley

There are three companies producing light aggregate in the Hudson Valley at the present time: The Nytralite Company, Kingston; The Colonial Sand and Gravel Company, Kingston; and Hudson Valley Lightweight Aggregate, Mount Marion. These companies employ a total of about 100 men. They also generate a substantial volume of rail, truck, and barge business to transport their products.

Congressman Resnick pointed out, "They are also major taxpayers in the communities in which they are located. It is important to see that inequitable provisions of the tax laws are changed, and that these vital industries in our area remain economically healthy, so that we can keep our men employed.

Light aggregate is used in

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

PALM SUNDAY

"All glory, laud, and honor to Thee, Redeemer King!
To whom the lips of children made sweet hosannas ring."

This beautiful Palm Sunday hymn dates back to 820 AD. It was written by Theodulph, bishop of Orleans, the Emperor Charlemagne's principal theologian. Legend has it that after Charlemagne's death, Theodulph was imprisoned on false accusations. He wrote the hymn in prison and supposedly sang it from his prison window as Louis I and his court were on the way to the cathedral. Upon hearing it, Louis immediately freed the good bishop. The hymn was translated into English by John Neale in 1851.

The music for this stirring processional hymn was written by Melchior Teschner, a Lutheran pastor in Silesia in 1615. As far as is known it is the only music he wrote. But Jesus's triumphal entry into Jerusalem and the words of Theodulph inspired Teschner this one time. Together they gave us our role on Palm Sunday which is expressed in the fifth verse.

"To thee before thy passion
They sang their hymns of praise:
To thee, now high exalted
Our melody we raise."

REV. ROBERT HAHN

Mission Speaker Concludes Series At County Church

The First Baptist Church of Saugerties will conclude a Missionary Conference Sunday with missionaries, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Hahn of Kenya, East Africa.

Before going to Africa in 1953, the Rev. Mr. Hahn served as pastor of the Grapeville Baptist Church of New York for eight years. During this time the Hahns emphasized missions in every phase of their ministry believing the Great Commission to be the supreme task of the church. At the time of a Missionary Conference in their own church they responded to the call from Africa.

The Hahns have been working in the northwest section of Kenya among three major tribes and in the Swahili language. They were in Kenya at the height of the Mau-Mau emergency and during the very difficult and tense years when Kenya gained independence.

Services will be held at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday. The public may attend. The Rev. Brooks N. Henry is host pastor.

Passover Festival Starts Monday; Rituals Observed

The Jewish people over the world will welcome the great Feast of Passover, Monday night, April 4. After services in the synagogues, families will get together at a home service, called the seder, where around table decked with special Passover foods and drinks, the Haggadah, the Story of Passover, will be read by the heads of the households.

This is the story of the liberation of the ancient Israelites, the ancestors of the Jewish people, from the slavery and bondage under the Pharaoh in the ancient land of Egypt. To the Jewish people this is the beginning of their nationhood. After Pharoah's stubborness in refusing to let the people of Israel go out of his land to go to worship their newly discovered Deity, the One God, Pharaoh was smitten with ten plagues which are described in the Book of Exodus, and are repeated at the Seder table.

Hurried Preparations

The King of Egypt refused to listen to the Jewish leader Moses, for Moses assured him that his people would be liberated whether Pharaoh willed it so or not. The Israelites prepared the Paschal or Passover lamb on the night that the first born of the Egyptians were to be slain, as the last plague to come upon the Egyptians, and in their preparations they had no time to bake their bread as Pharaoh now hurried them out of the land for fear that he too would die. Their bread remained flat cakes, which we now represent with the Matzoh, the unleavened bread that is eaten on this holiday. That was the first Passover, which occurred about the year 1300 B.C.E.

At the Passover Seder celebration four cups of wine are drunken to represent the four expressions of liberation found in the Book of Exodus in the Bible. This holiday is called the Festival of Passover, the Festival of Matzos, the Festival of Freedom, and the Festival of Spring. The home Seder celebrations are held the first two nights of the holiday in Orthodox and Conservative families, and only the first night in Reform homes.

Special Foods Used

To represent the many incidents and events surrounding this great historic occurrence that lead to the Passover liberation, many observances, rituals and even differences of eating habits are part of the celebration. No leavened bread is to be found in the homes of Jewish families, or eaten during the eight days of the holiday. All foods which have within them any leaven are forbidden, and special condiments are used to represent the spirit of the season.

Children are given uppermost attention on this Festival as the Bible distinctly exhorts the Jewish people to teach their children to ask questions about the holiday, so that the importance of the events may be made clear to them. At the Seder celebration the youngest child asks four questions as part of the ritual. The ritual also includes an invitation for all "who are hungry to come and eat."

Special prayer is offered for the coming of the Messiah when all men will be liberated from the burdens of all kinds of enslavement, and all men shall be free to worship "the Lord on Mount Zion," according to the words of Isaiah, the prophet.

Local Services Listed

The three local Jewish congregations have announced Passover activities as follows:

THE INTERCONTINENTAL JET

A few weeks ago The New York Times printed a map of most of the world showing "a week's work of an intercontinental jet." The huge plane, based at Kansas City, covers four cities in the United States and eleven overseas. It ventures as far away as Bombay, India; is air borne for 76 hours and 56 minutes; and covers a 34,159 mile route. Its average speed for the week, in round numbers, is 444 miles per hour. On the international segments of its flight it is served by 39 pilots and co-pilots, 76 cabin attendants and 712 ground personnel. And on the domestic runs there are 48 persons in the cockpit, 48 cabin attendants and 955 ground personnel. A grand total of 1,878 working people directly minister to the plane during one week of flight.

Most of the men and women who put and keep the plane in the air are never seen by the passengers. They are behind the scenes, doing their tasks, in order that folks like ourselves may get where we want to go.

What is true of flying is true also of eating. Over a decade ago in writing about "living the Lord's Prayer," Carrol E. Simcox observed: "No man really is independent in the matter of his daily bread. If you had to plant, cultivate, harvest, mill and bake your bread, you would starve to death. By the time the loaf has reached your table, hundreds of human hands have put vital touches upon it. Economically we are members one of another . . . The selfish man may eat his bread in solitude; but if he imagines that he is in debt for it to nobody, he is a fool; and if he imagines that he has no obligation to share it with others he is a thief—accepting what others have shared with him and not passing the common gift along."

There is no such thing as a self-made man—of a self-maintained man. "No man liveth unto himself; and no man dieth unto himself." Some years ago a unit of study for use in the Daily Vacation Bible School was entitled, "We All Need Each Other." How true! How true

And the universal recognition of that need will provide one of the strategically important keys to any future that has a gleam of hope and promise about it.

"A VERY PRESENT HELP"

"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble" (Psalm 46:1). It's true. But we need more than blind belief when "in trouble." We need a full conviction, an understanding love of the healing power of God. Hear a public lecture on "How Christian Science Can Help You" by ARNOLD H. A SENSE OF HISTORY

Some people are inclined to poke fun at efforts to strengthen Americans' sense of history by preserving relics and memorials of the past. There is some reason for this for at times it seems that those conscious of history push the thing to the point of absurdity by wanting to commemorate every little event of the past.

All the same, a perceptive and balanced effort to keep our heritage fresh is of great importance. We should not ignore our historic heritage. This has been underscored locally by the formation of a new society dedicated to the preservation of the memory and physical remains of the historic Delaware and Hudson Canal.

The D & H Canal between Rondout and Honesdale, Pa. was opened in 1828 and became an important factor in the commercial importance of the area. Kingston became a tidewater coal terminal and large quantities of coal were brought here and reshipped to market. Rondout in canal days was a thriving community.

Another area project underway is the preservation of "Olana", fromer home of the renowned 19th century painter, Frederic Edwin Church, at Hudson. The plan is for the restoration and endowment of the estate as a museum which would be open to the public. Besides Church's paintings, there are works of art gathered from all parts of the world.

Only devoted effort to preserve reminders of the past will keep it from being lost. This has never been truer than it is today, for we live in an era of disturbingly swift change. Unless this generation busies itself, acting with intelligent foresight, a real sense of much of our history will be denied to future generations.

KNOWLEDGE, BUT NO SAVVY

The director of educational research for the U.S. government sees the day—and possibly within 10 or 15 years — when classrooms will be completely computerized, with each pupil sitting in front of an individual computer, soaking up knowledge.

The teacher, this gentleman believes, should never have to acutally present information to the student, since the machine can do it better.

Before we start trading in teachers for computers, it might be well to listen to what else Dr. Richard Louis Bright has to say.

He concedes that a machine could never teach a pupil "to speak confidently to other people, to express ideas lucidly, to handle the criticism of his peers, or to apply knowledge to a new situation."

Teachers would still be useful, that is, to add the touch that would make it possible to tell a student from a machine.

Please stick around, teachers. It look as though we are going to need you more than ever if this isn't going to become a weird, weird world.

TRACING THE PH.Ds

Recent studies by the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council reveal that the huge amounts of federal funds going to science have not, as many fear, made the nation top-heavy in this field.

Since 1920, reports Scientific American, 200,000 persons have been awarded Ph.D. degrees in science. As a percentage of all doctorates granted in those years, the scientists have fluctuated in a narrow band between 45 and 53 per cent.

Neither is the government becoming the chief employer of scientists. Of 10,000 science Ph.D.-holders who won their degrees between 1935 and 1960, only 8 per cent work for the government. The majority—59 per cent—are employed by colleges and universities; 15 per cent work in business and industry, and 18 per cent are distributed among all other categories of employers.

Biggest producer of science Ph.Ds. has been the Middle West, with 40 per cent. But it employs just 25 per cent of them. The Middle Atlantic states produced 22 per cent, now employ 20 per cent. New England produced 13 per cent but managed to hold on to only 7 per cent.

Where are the scientists going? To the South and West, both of which produced 12 per cent and now employ 24 per cent and 18 per cent respectively.

KITES IN THE SPRING

This is the season of the kite. It is the season when small boys, and fathers with happy memories of being small boys, set out to prove again that a flimsy bit of wood and paper tethered on a string will soar like some great bird.

It is a pity to spoil the fun with admonition, but a word now may prevent tragedy. The other day in Baltimore a man flying a kite for his little son was electrocuted when the "string"—in this case a copper wire—touch a high tension line. A damp string might have brought the same result.

So take care: Stay away from electric wires. To make doubly sure, never fly that kite except out in the open away from interference. It's more fun thus—and a great deal safer.

Global View

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA)—What next from President De Gaulle? The State Department is watching his latest assault on NATO more in sorrow than in anger. The policy of the Johnson Administration seems to be one of patience with the aging French president.

There is much to recommend this policy. It may please le grand Charles to irritate the United States from time to time. He loves to play the role of mystery man, sow uncertainty in international relations for pleasure and continually reverse his policies in midstream. But even De Gaulle is likely to recoil from playing the role of Samson and bringing the European defense system crashing down.

De Gaulle's political style depends upon guile and illusion. "However, he is hardly the man to endanger France's and Europe's security by destroying NATO," said a former close collaborator of the French president. "He will threaten and bargain but in the end, as in former crises, he will agree to compromise without compromising himself."

Another reason for President Johnson's tenderness toward De Gaulle is the unchivalrous conviction that time, alas, is not on the side of the 75-year-old leader.

He narrowly escaped defeat in the recent elections. He may yet suffer a serious political setback in the coming elections to the National Assembly. And there are few, if any, French politicians who wield enough influence and authority to carry out De Gaulle's personal policies after him.

What, then, is behind his new threat to evict NATO from France? The shrewdest guess is that De Gaulle is preparing the diplomatic ground for his June visit to Russia. It is his way of telling the Kremlin leaders that he, De Gaulle, is not an American puppet but an independent European statesman with whom they can deal on equal terms.

It is the old game of diplomatic bluff. The Russians, who are hardheaded realists, are not likely to fall for it.

To be sure, the Kremlin leaders welcome any signs of dissension among members of NATO which is the only deterrent to their expansionist plans in Europe. According to the Soviet press, they are preparing a grand reception for De Gaulle. They will do everything to cater to the vanity of the old general.

Nevertheless, the Kremlin leaders and their marshals and generals, even as they give De Gaulle the red carpet treatment, are bound to ask themselves two questions:

What wars did France win in a century?

Does De Gaulle really think that his little atomic bomb (or bombette as the French call it), into which he has been recklessly plunging the French taxpayer's money, can command the world scene?

The fact is, of course, that De Gaulle has long wielded international influence out of all proportion to the actual power he is able to marshal. In any scale of raw military power France today is indeed small potatoes compared with the United States and Russia or even with Britain and West Germany.

The Russians know this. If they are true to form, De Gaulle is likely to return from his Soviet visit empty-handed and easier to live with.

Thus, despite his threats to NATO, it is still premature for the Cassandras to start writing the obituary of the Western alliance.

The Mailman Cometh— To Brighten Dentist's Day

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Among the serious letters I get from readers are some that are quite humorous—or perhaps facetious.

In respense to a recent article on bruxism (night grinding), a woman in Texas writes, "I read with great interest your article on grinding teeth at night. I immediately mailed it to a friend whose husband has been a chronic grinder for years. In fact, they've recently gotten a divorce because it made her so nervous she just couldn't stand it any longer. It's amazing to think that adjusting his bite might have saved their marriage."

Mrs. S. writes from Georgia, "I'm disturbed by reading your article on teeth getting old. I'm 44, in good health, and raring to go. However, I fear my teeth may be aging, and I'm troubled to think that while my body remains young, my teeth may be getting old. I use wrinkle cream and exercisers. Are there similar things I can use on my teeth to keep them young looking?"

Dear Dr. L.: "I'm sure no one has told you this before, but do you know what I'm most proud of these days? That I'm able to spit. Yes, spit. I had a blood clot in my brain a few months ago, and the right side of my face was paralyzed. One of the things I couldn't do was spit. Now I'm able to control my tongue and lips again."

Dear Dr. Lawrence: "Is there anything you can tell me to do to get my husband's teeth to tighten up? He lost his job last week because the rope he was pulling the car with kept knocking his upper plate out."

Dear Dr. L. "How can I get my 5-year-old son to sit for a filling? Without having any idea when his dental appointment is, he'll get up that morning and just one look at him and I know it's going to be a yelly, screamy day. He screams all the way to the dental office. If he behaved I offered to let him ride up front with the chauffeur. But he still makes such an awful fuss that the butler refuses to accompany him to the dentist any more."

Dear Dr. L.: "Could you some day write about teeth and the single girl? I heard that decayed teeth are due to sinning. Is this true?"

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some top Russian scientists have come up with a "distressing" thought.

Their calculations show:

"That unless progess in the automation of . . . national forecasting and planning can match the current pace of industrial automation, it is estimated that by 1980 the entire adult population of the Soviet Union will be obliged to work full time to keep up with the problems of economic and industrial planning."

The author of that statement is V. M. Glushkov, vice president of the Academy of Sciences of the Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic and an academician of the Soviet Union.

His conclusions are the result of lengthy scientific studies at his academy.

Another Soviet academician, A. I. Berg, has concluded that maintaining the mechanics of a Socialist centralized economy like Russia's is inherently so complex that it can't be effectively ruled or governed without reliance on cybernetic machine systems which he says substitute for some of the thought processes of human brains.

AN ADJUSTED price system for the output of 70 branches of production in the Soviet Union has already been calculated at the Institute of Electronic Control Machines.

But the system has not yet been put to practical use.

The problem these scientists recognize is that centralized planning is becoming so difficult in the sprawling industrial-economic complex of the Soviet Union that the plans are bogging down, one defeating another.

This is resulting in stresses and strains, halts and spurts in thousands of small sectors of the Soviet national economy and slowing down the Soviet rate of economic growth.

There is overproduction of some items, underproduction of others. So thousands of factory, highway, dam and electric power plant construction projects grind to a halt because there's a shortage of this type of steel shape or that type of electrical equipment or of something else.

Yet while this is happening, still more projects are being started because the over-all production figures "indicate" to the planners that materials are available.

THE RUSSIAN PLANS deal with averages and totals and theoretical production. The plans fit total production, which averages out overproduction of some items and underproduction of others. But in construction and business, it's usually impossible to substitute say an oversupply of steel sheet for an undersupply of steel girders.

In fact, 90 per cent of the material and equipment may be available for building a particular plant and it will still stand, partly built for lack of the other 10 per cent (of scarce items).

The siutation is made worse in the Soviet Union because there are certain space and military projects which get first priority on what is available. This intensifies shortages elsewhere in the Soviet Union.

Bidding Simpler Than Problem

By JACOBY & SON

One of the bad features about most bridge problems is that the situation just never seems to arise in actual play. Hence it is refreshing to be able to present a problem where the final contract is reached after reasonable bidding. It is taken from Victor Mollo's new book, "The Bridge Menagerie" which so far is unavailable in this country.

According to Victor, when the hand was played at the "Griffins' Club" the contract was three no-trump and West opened a low spade.

It is unnecessary to point out that a diamond lead would almost surely have beaten the contract. At the table "The Hideous Hog" (a most obnoxious expert) spread his hand immediately and announced, "I will make this against any distribution."

See if you can figure out his plan. Remember you must be able to make your contract against any combination of adverse cards.

The play is simple as problem plays go. You must win the first spade with the king, lead your spade jack and overtake with dummy's ace. Then you play out dummy's ten of spades and discard your ace of diamonds.

This gives the defense a choice of losing plays. They can attack diamonds whereupon you will get into dummy with the second diamond lead and cash the other two spades and your own four good hearts. You will never make a club trick but four spades, plus four hearts plus one diamond makes a total of nine.

Or they can refuse to play diamonds at all. In this case you go about the business of setting up your club suit and wind up with the same nine tricks. This time they consist of two spades, four hearts and three clubs.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The second quarter of 1966 rolled around during the week with business still booming and inflation storm warnings flying.

Prices were advancing and spending plans were rising and the Johnson administration was apprehensive that the economy would overheat and inflation balloon.

Rocked the Market

On Tuesday President Johnson indicated he will ask Congress for an income tax increase if prices continue to go up. This sent the stock market tumbling.

The President mentioned a possible boost of $5 billion affecting both individual and corporate taxes but emphasized that no decision had been reached.

"Congress would rather have a modest tax increase of 5, 6 or 7 per cent of the tax bill, corporate and personal, than to see inflation and the value of the dollar go down," he said.

He said most of his advisers believe antiinflation measures taken so far will not do the trick. They are talking about government controls, a federal spending cut of $5 billion to $10 billion, or a tax increase of $5 billion or less.

Gives Formula

It would be better, said Johnson, if no industry in the country raised their prices and wage boosts were held to 3.2 per cent.

Johnson was disclosed to have telephoned 25 to 30 business leaders to urge a go slow approach toward capital spending that might fuel inflationary fires.

The President entertained 150 business leaders at dinner at the White House Wednesday night and askd that they review, and curtail where possible, plans for new capital investment. Many in his audience pledged support.

The following day, W. B. Murphy, president of Campbell Soup Co. and chairman of the Business Council, ordered postponement of all capital outlays of his company that are "desirable but not essential."

Won't Hesitate

On Thursday, Johnson said the economy "is not shooting off into outer space" but that if inflation gets rolling he won't hesitate to ask for a tax boost or other fiscal restraints.

"Most serious of all," he said, "prices are moving up much too fast for comfort. The day before yesterday we announced a one-half of 1 per cent increase in consumer prices between January and February. Over the last five months wholesale prices have been rising at the rate of 5½ per cent a year. Increases at these rates could not be long tolerated."

This week Brown Shoe Co. and Interco, Inc., announced price increases of about 4½ per cent for shoes, Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. raised sheet glass prices 5 per cent, American-Standard Industrial Division of American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp. boosted the price of its Remotair Type 41 unitary air condtioner 5 per cent, major sulphur procuers raised prices $1 to $2 a ton, and major producers of concentrated phosphatic fertilizer materials hiked prices about 3½ per cent.

'The rise in the cost of living was the steepest for February since the Korean War.

The climb was due primarily to soaring food prices, particularly for meat.

The rise in the index measuring typical family living costs put the index at 111.6. This meant it required $11.16 last month to buy items that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen called a strike against eight major railroads operating in 38 states. It involved elimination of firemen's jobs. The lines include 12.2 per cent of the nation's track mileage.

Defense shipments were halted and travelers and commuters had to find alternate means of transportation.

A federal court in Washington, D.C., issued an order that the union cease the strike.

General Motors Corp. put seven plants, including three automobile assembly plants, on partial work turns because of the strike.

Automobile production this week dipped to an estimated 205,000 passenger cars from 207,796 last week but was ahead of the 196,785 built a year ago.

The four automakers scheduled 2.56 million car assemblies for the second quarter, just a shade under the 2,598,000 built in the 1965 period.

Juvenile Delinquency Cases on the Increase

By TOM NOLAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — One out of every nine 10-year-olds in the United States today will be referred to a juvenile court for some act of deliquency before he reaches his 18th birthday.

This flat prediction comes from the Health, Education and Welfare Department's Children's Bureau. It is based on a thorough review of 1964 juvenile court statistics.

Perhaps the most startling aspect of the prediction is that it excludes all traffic violations except hit and run, driving without a license and driving while intoxicated.

In 1964, 686,000 juvenile delinquency cases were handled by the country's juvenile courts, an increase of 14 per cent over 1963.

Significantly, the teen-aged (10 through 17) population rose only four per cent during the same year. The Census Bureau estimates there were some 29.1 million teen-agers in 1964.

Using the court statistics as a performance chart, it is possible to come up with a pretty fair betting line on the juvenile delinquent of 1966. This line could read:

- 4-1 odds that the offender is a boy.
- 9-1 odds that he comes from an urban or suburban area.
- 4-1 odds that he's either 16 or 17 years old.
- Better than even money that he's charged with a felony (larceny, auto theft, burglary, robbery, homicide, assault, rape, etc.) rather than a misdemeanor (drunkenness, disorderly conduct, etc.) or offense applicable to a juvenile only (running away, ungovernable, truancy, etc.).

There's also one chance out of three that he's a repeater, or at least has previously come to the court's attention.

Again based on 1964 statistics, the odds are 4-1 that he will not be committed to the care and custody of a corrective agency or institution.

Three out of 10 deliquents in 1964 were dismissed with a warning. Five out of 10 were put on probation.

The fact that boys get referred to juvenile courts four times as often as girls prompts the Children's Bureau to predict that one out of every six boys in the country today will be referred before he turns 18. For girls, the probability is only 1 in 23.

The most frequent offenses for boys in 1964 were larceny, burglary and auto theft. Girls were most frequently referred for running away, being ungovernable, larceny and sex offenses.

In addition to the 686,000 delinquency cases, the juvenile courts handled some 442,000 traffic cases involving teen-agers in 1964, an increase of 21 per cent from 1963.

Officials at the Children's Bureau point out that the increase in delinquency may be attributed to the fact that children born in the high-birth-rate years of the late 1940s are now swelling the ranks of the 16 and 17-year-olds—the peak ages for juvenile delinquency.

In many states, compulsory school attendance ends at these ages.

The prediction that one out of every nine children will be referred to a juvenile court for delinquency points out how urgent it is to speed our efforts to meet the needs of our growing child population," says Mrs. Katherine Oettinger, chief of the Children's Bureau.

"We are paying an enormous price now — and the price will become even higher if we do not take every step in our power to stem the rising tide of juvenile delinquency."

Alliance Lists Special Series For Holy Week

Plans for Holy Week services under the auspices of the Ulster County Ministerial and Laymen's Alliance have been made by ministers, choir directors and officers of the alliance and churches participating.

Special services will be held each day 7:30 p. m. April 4 through 8. An Easter sunrise service will be held 6:30 a. m. April 10.

Combined choirs and other choral groups will provide special music for each service.

Schedule of services and speakers is as follows:

Monday, Church of God in Christ, Mill Street, the Rev. John H. Gilmore. Tuesday, Paradise Soul Saving Station, Meadow Street, the Rev. Charles Jackson. Wednesday, First Emmanuel, Abeel Street, the Rev. Chester O. Newton. Thursday and Friday, Riverview Baptist, speaker to be announced.

Bethlehem Temple, Tremper Avenue will host the Easter sunrise service. The Rev. James Childs will be speaker. Breakfast will be served after the service.

All members of the community may attend the services.

Salvation Army Plans Special Holy Week Series

The Salvation Army will conduct a series of special Holy Week services at 7:45 p.m. at the Citadel, 94 North Front Street, Brigadier J. Hohn presiding.

Speakers are as follows:

Monday the Rev. Erick Forsberg; Tuesday the Rev. Thomas Younce; Wednesday the Rev. James Braker; Thursday, Elmer Havens; Friday the Rev. George Osborne.

Wawarsing Chapel Sets Special Series

Special Holy Week services are planned at Wawarsing Chapel, Route 209, Sunday through Friday 7:30 p. m.

Guest speaker will be the Rev. John Fasano of Winona Lake, Ind., author, lecturer and Bible teacher. He will present an illustrated series of lectures on This Way to the Holy Land. He will illustrate the series with film slides, models and other subjects gathered on his recent trip to the Middle East.

The Rev. Robert Houghtaling, pastor, has extended an invitation to the public to attend. There will be special events each evening.

PLAN MAUNDY THURSDAY BREAKFAST—Discussing plans for the fifth annual Maundy Thursday white breakfast to be held at the Fair Street Reformed Church April 7 at 9:30 a. m. are the Mmes. Donald J. Sweeney, reservations; Elmor Nathan, program and William E. Rylance, music. Others on the planning committee are the Mmes. Floyd Ellsworth, service; Douglas Roosa, publicity; L. V. Porter, posters and Robert Strickland, dining room. The breakfast and service are open to all women of Kingston and surrounding communities. A baby sitting service will be available. Reservations for the nursery service and breakfast may be made by contacting the church office or Mrs. Sweeney.

Shokan Reformed Sets Holy Week Schedules

The scheduled services of the Shokan Reformed Church for Holy Week are prayer meeting and Bible study Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

Maundy Thursday service of communion at 7:30 p. m. will be a union service with the Shandaken Reformed Church of Mt. Tremper. The pastor, the Rev. O. Phillips, will preach the communion sermon In the Shadow of the Cross.

Friday evening service at 7:30 p. m. will have sermon by the pastor on the topic, The Revealing Cross.

Easter sunrise service will be held on the Academy Green Kingston, opposite from the Gov. Clinton Hotel from 7-8 a. m. This service is sponsored by the Hudson Valley Evangelical Ministerial Association and will be broadcast over WBAZ, Kingston.

The public may attend all services.

Flatbush Church Lists Pre-Easter Services, Events

The Flatbush Reformed Church, Route 32, has announced its services for Holy Week.

Beginning on Palm Sunday, at 9:45 a. m. the church school will offer a special program presented by the communicant's class. At the 11 a. m. service, special singing will be presented by the junior choir.

Thursday of Holy Week, the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated at 7:30 p. m. On Good Friday, at 7:30 p. m. a half hour prayer service will be offered as preparation for Easter.

Easter Sunday at 7 a. m., a sunrise service will be held in the church. Members of the Old Dutch Church choir in Kingston will lead the services in a program of singing. This will be immediately followed by a pancake breakfast in Loughran Hall.

Church school at 9:45 also has a special program. Taken from the motion picture, a flim strip with the music and words from The King of Kings will be shown. At 11 a. m., there will be special Easter music, by the choirs, with the sermon by the Rev. Robert Hess.

All of these services and programs are open to the public.

Marlboro Church Sets Carillon Dedication

A new electronic carillon is to be dedicated at the First Presbyterian Church, Marlborough, at the 11 o'clock service this Sunday. The pastor, the Rev. John T. Burns, DD, will be in charge.

The carillon is the gift of Will Plank, historian and former local publisher, and is given in memory of his parents and Mrs. Plank's parents, William Henry and Clara Louise Gille Plank, and the Rev. Cantata Slated Good Friday at Comforter Church

The cantata, The Seven Last Words, by Theodore Dubois, will be presented at the Reformed Church of the Comforter, Wynkoop Place, Friday, April 8, at 8 p. m.

Soloists, Sheldon Martin, Kathryn Souers, Arthur Souers, Hasbrouck Dougherty; sopranos, Marsha Bright, Regina Kolts, Linda Nickerson, Nancy Rhymer, Gladys Wilson; altos, Anita Aird, Florence Aliton, May Elmendorf, Frances Kolts, Darlene Tymeson; tenors, David Bridge, Douglas Kennedy; basses, Edward Heaney, Mark Kachigian, Kenneth Millham.

Frank Elmendorf, director of the Comforter choir, will be in charge. Mrs. David Bright will be the accompanist. Child care will be available. A social hour will follow.

The public may attend. The program will be broadcast over WGHQ-FM.

Deadline Listed For Holy Week, Easter Services

Special notices for Maundy Thursday and Good Friday services are due at the downtown Freeman office 1:30 p. m. Monday. All Easter Sunday church notices including special sunrise service notices are due at the office 1:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Fair St. Church Lists Special Events for Week

The observance of Holy Week will be marked with special services at the Fair Street Reformed Church this year beginning with Palm Sunday.

At both the 9:30 and 11 a. m. services, the pastor, the Rev. Edwin C. Coon, will conclude his Lenten series of sermons on Christ in Temptation and Gethsemane, with the meditation, Drinking the Cup. At the latter service the office for the sacrament of Infant Baptism will also be read. During the last hymn of both services, boys of the confirmation class will present the palms to the congregation after which the service will conclude with the traditional Prayer of the Palms.

On Tuesday evening the choir of the church will present a sacred concert, Faure's Requiem. The concert will feature Mrs. Betty Lindsay as soprano soloist and John Rich as baritone and will be broadcast over radio station WGHQ-FM beginning at 8 o'clock. The choir is under the direction of Percy W. Gazlay II. Larry Lowder, church organist will be at the console.

Thursday morning women from the Kingston Area Council of Churches and the Reformed Churches of the Classis of Ulster will be meeting in the parish room of the Church for the fifth annual Maundy Thursday white breakfast. Following the breakfast the service of dedication under the direction of Mrs. Elmor Nathan will be held in the church. The meditation Is It I? by Grace Noll Crowell, will be presented by Mrs. Altanah Osterhoudt. Soloist for the service will be Mrs. Nathan and Mrs. Bernard Pauker. Baby sitting is provided.

The Maundy Thursday service of Holy Communion and Tenebrae will be held at the church 7:30 in the evening. After the celebration of the Lord's Supper, the service of Tenebrae, written before 350 AD for use in the primitive Christian church, will depict the desertion of the disciples in Jesus' last moments on earth. The service concludes as one remaining candle not extinguished is carried from the church, leaving the sanctuary in darkness. Elders of the church will portray the disciples. The choir, singing from the church balcony, will present anthems from Clokeys Adoramus Te,

The Good Friday service, for 22 years a tradition at Fair Street Church, will be held from noon until three with ministers of the Kingston Area Council of Churches participating and presenting meditations on The Seven Last Words of Christ from The Cross. This service will be broadcast from 1 until 3 p. m. over radio station WGHQ.

All services are open to the public.

Olive Baptists Plan Evangelism Series This Week

The Olive-Shokan Baptist Church, West Shokan, will conduct an evangelistic campaign from Wednesday, April 6, through Sunday, April 10. The services will begin each night at 7:30 except on Sunday when the service will begin at 3:15.

The Rev. Paul Moyer of Auburn will bring the messages. The Rev. Mr. Moyer has served churches in Quinto, Pennsville, and Pitman, N. J. He was Youth for Christ director in Chester and Philadelphia, Pa.; Wilmington, Del.; and parts of New Jersey. In 1959, the Rev. Mr. Moyer was a delegate to the Youth for Christ World Congress in Mexico. He has conducted evangelistic campaigns and rallies in 22 states, Cuba, Mexico, Canada, and Puerto Rico. At the present time, the Rev. Mr. Moyer is New York State CBA Missionary Worker.

The church choir will present special music during each service. The following special groups will be honored.

Wednesday, April 6—Men and Boys; Thursday, April 7—Young People; Friday, April 8—Women and Girls; Saturday, April 9—the Family. Sunday, April 10, will be Victory Day with Communion observed at 3:15 and a service of baptism at 7:30.

The public may attend all of these services.

Lutheran Seals Project Launched At Local Church

Lutheran Hour Easter seals, which have established themselves in the program of Lutheran Hour activities over a period of 20 years, have been mailed to members of Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Kingston.

The purpose of the Lutheran Hour Easter Seal, it was stated by the Rev. Carl J. Goette, pastor of Immanuel congregation is threefold: to proclaim the joyous Easter news; to publicize The Lutheran Hour which broadcasts the good news worldwide year-round; and to encourage special Easter gifts in a generous amount, proportionate to God's blessings, for the worldwide radio proclamation of the living and reigning Christ.

Promotion of the Lutheran Hour seals project in Immanuel congregation is under the supervision of George Weis, Lutheran Hour representative of the congregation and Eastern New York Zone Supervisor. He said that "from the first these seals have not only promoted the Gospel broadcast, but themselves have carried a capsule Gospel message." Response was encouraging initially, and it had been growing ever since.

Last year more than 33 million seals were distributed by the International Lutheran Laymen's League, sponsors of the broadcast as a means of inviting people to hear and to share the Good News of Easter.

The Lutheran Hour broadcast can be heard locally every Sunday at 12:30 p. m. over radio station WGHQ.

City Firemen Quell Fires in Bus, Truck

A bus fire, a truck fire and a false alarm of children trapped in a downtown building, kept city fire fighters busy Friday night in separate parts of the city.

Dispatchers at Central Fire Station reported a call about 9:15 p. m. of boys trapped in a building owned by Levine Brothers Bag Co. Inc. at Hasbrouck Avenue at Mill Street. They said that a fire truck was sent but firemen couldn't find anybody in the building. Police also investigated.

Earlier, about 7:20 p. m., Engines 1 and 4 responded to a bus fire in behind Temple Emanuel off Albany Avenue. Firemen under Deputy Chief Julius E. Buchholtz extinguished the fire with Indian pump, booster and brooms.

The truck fire, reported in late afternoon at Broadway and Henry Street, caused damage to the carburetor and wiring in the vehicle, which was owned by an Orange County firm and operated by John Lukack, of Marybrook.

Capt. Edwin Murphy was in charge of fire fighters while Patrolman Gerald Tierney investigated for police.

MARY ELLEN BEILMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beilman of Ellenville have announced the engagement of their daughter Mary Ellen, to Frederick S. Parisi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Parisi of Lyonsville, N. Y.

Miss Beilman is a graduate of the Ellenville Central School and attended Ulster County Community College. She is employed by the New York Telephone Company at Monticello, N. Y.

Mr. Parisi is a graduate of the Rondout Valley Central School and is attending Ulster County Community College.

A September wedding is planned.

Program Announced For Mass Concert In Saugerties High

A program for the mass concert of 200 male voices has been announced by Donald S. Fellows, music chairman and conductor of the host group, the Catskill Glee Club.

On April 23 at 8:15 p. m. the concert will be given in the Saugerties High School auditorium. It will be similar in format to last year's performance. Solo performances by three glee clubs will fill the first half of the program and for the second half, over 200 male voices of the Mohawk-Hudson Male Chorus Association will join in the following selections:

"Hail, Friends of Music," conducted by Donald S. Fellows; "Glory," "Passing By," and "Laudamus," conducted by Cliff Ormsby of Great Neck, N. Y.; "Salvation Belongeth to Our God," "No Man Is an Island," and "The Lost Chord," conducted by John T. Bone of Athol, Mass.; "Down in the Valley," "Shenandoah," and "Give Me Your Tired Your Poor," conducted by Roland Persson of Newburgh. The final selection will be "America—Our Heritage," conducted by Mr. Fellows. This final number is a rousing glee club melody and will be highlighted by the addition of a trumpet trio and organ accompaniment. Still more surprises are planned for this fine patriotic finale.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Catskill Glee Club or by sending your name, address and check to Mass Concert, P.O. Box 263, Catskill, N. Y.

Dramatic Reading Is Sponsored Here By B'nai B'rith

More than 200 people attended the joint meeting of Zephaniah Lodge and Chapter of B'nai B'rith, held on Wednesday, March 23, at Temple Emanuel. The highlight of the meeting was an Anti-Defamation League dramatic reading, "There Is a Certain People . . ." performed by William Skilling, Wilfred La Voie, Stanley London, and Frank Policano. After the program Mrs. Arnold Pinsley presented the performers with B'nai B'rith service certificates.

At the Zephaniah Chapter meeting prior to the program it was announced that the joint Lodge Chapter Installation dinner will be held on April 16 at the Hedges in West Park. Among other coming events are the District No. 1 bowling tournament to be held in Buffalo on April 23-24, a Hudson Valley Council Spring Conference on March 27, and a college students program to be held early in May. Drivers are needed to take the students between New Paltz and Bard Colleges, and then back to Kingston. Those available should contact Mrs. Harris Gally.

Mrs. Harris Gally announced there is a special prayer on a matzo of affliction to honor Soviet Jewery at the Passover Service. Copies are available from Mrs. Harris Gally. Mrs. Gally also thanked all the members of B'nai B'rith for their help and support during the past year.

Welcomed as guests were the Mmes. Lester Lewis, S. Mitzner, Max Rose, E Rothstein and Miss Arlene Jacobs. The meeting concluded with refreshments prepared by the Mmes. Sam Barnovitz and Ross Ellis.

Temple Emanuel Youth Group

The Youth Group of Temple Emanuel, Albany Avenue, was host to the Regional Central New York Federation of Temple Youth Spring Election Conclave March 25, 26, and 27.

Delegates from cities in upper New York attended. Approximately 200 people, including adult advisors and chaperones, attended.

On Saturday afternoon, David Landesman was elected regional treasurer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Landesman of Manor Avenue, Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. Landesman have been assisting Cantor Julian Lohre as advisors to the NFTY group this year.

Rabbi Jonathan Eichhorn of Temple Emanuel delivered the keynote sermon at Friday evening services. Newly-elected officers for the region were installed at a candlelight ceremony Saturday night by Cantor Harold Dworkin of Temple Beth Emeth, Albany, present regional advisor to CNYFTY, and by Theodore Broido, representing the Greater New York Council of Reform Congregations and the Union of American Hebrew Congregations.

General Conclave chairmen were Lee Forst and Roy Brower; others included: Conclave brochure, David Landesman; housing and transportation, Howard Halpern; publicity and registration, David Landesman; social, Lori Gertner and Rose Zucker; study, theme and worship, Linda Field and Pat Gerbarg.

Mark Brower is president of the Temple Emanuel Youth Group, which is an affiliate of the National Federation of Temple Youth.

Farm Totals Lower

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau estimates that, since the 1960 census, there are 3.3 million fewer persons living on farms in the United States.

The bureau said Friday that 12,363,000 persons, 6.4 per cent of the nation's population, lived on farms as of last April. The farm population equaled 8.7 per cent of the over-all population in 1960, the bureau said.

Aldo Argiro Wins National Merit Art Award; Paltz Senior

Aldo Argiro, a senior in art education at State University College at New Paltz, has received a National Merit Award for a piece of pottery which was entered in the Northeast Region of the "1966 Craftsman U.S.A." exhibition. Another piece was also selected for the exhibit.

This exhibition is part of a national competition sponsored by the American's Council and was open to all U.S. resident craftsmen working in all media.

The exhibition is being shown at the Delaware Art Center, Wilmington and consists of 142 art objects selected from 1372 submitted to the jury. Pieces receiving National Merit Awards will form a major exhibition at the Museum of Contemporary Crafts in New York City, June through September.

Aldo's interest and success in pottery and ceramic design is due to the influence and teaching of Kenneth Green, well known potter and Assistant Professor of Art. Aldo is now doing his internship in teaching at the Wappingers Falls High School and expects to graduate in June. He is the son of Professor and Mrs. Larry Argiro of New Paltz.

Fingernail Product Withdrawn; Label Must Be Changed

NEW YORK (AP) — Helena Rubenstein Inc. said today it has temporarily withdrawn from the market a newly introduced fingernail hardener, "Strong and Long."

A spokesman for the cosmetics company said this was being done so that a warning may be placed on the label indicating that the preparation may discolor the nails of some people.

The discolorations did not show up during premarket testing, he said. Customer complaints prompted the company's action.

The spokesman said the Food and Drug Administration has been advised of the product's withdrawal.

WISHES TO AVOID GOING DOWNSTAIRS

Question: I live on the second floor of a private house. The front door is always kept locked. Whenever anyone rings my bell I go to the top of the stairs and call out, "Who is it?" rather than go all the way down only to find it is someone soliciting or trying to sell something. If is is someone I know, I then, of course, go down and let him or her in. I have been told that this is very rude. May I please have your opinion?

A: I know that calls from salesmen and other solicitors are a continual annoyance, but I'm afraid I must agree with whoever criticized you, because your calling out loud enough to be heard by someone outside your door on the ground floor, could conceivably be very annoying to the other people in the house.

Opening Gifts At Engagement Party

Question: My parents are planning to honor my fiance and me at an engagement party next month. Should I open any gifts we are given in the presence of the guests?

Answer: This frequent question always produces arguments on both sides. Although the guests who haven't brought presents may be embarrassed, I favor opening the gifts at the party. Only by doing so can you show your enthusiasm and appreciation to the donors, and most of the others will really enjoy seeing what you have been given. After all, those who didn't bring a present to the party (and it certainly is not required) can send one later.

Godparents to a Twin

Question: My husband and I were asked to be godparents to one of twin boys. We, of course, intend to give him a present. We would like to know if we should also give a present to the other twin who will have a different set of godparents.

Answer: You are only obliged to give a present to your own godchild, but if you wish, there is no reason why you may not give a small present to the other child as a token of your affection.

Details concerning the announcement of an engagement are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet, entitled, "Announcing the Engagement." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Hold Practice Alert

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Friday was April Fool's Day, but a statewide practice alert at 8 p.m. was no joke for thousands of New York State Civil Defense volunteers and several National Guard units.

Gen. M. J. Asensio, state Civil Defense director, said the alert would continue overnight. He did not specify the number of volunteers involved or name the National Guard units.

He said the alert was a routine one staged to simulate conditions expected in the event of a nuclear attack.

55th Smog Alert

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles recorded the earliest smog alert on record Wednesday.

It was the 55th smog alert since the system went into effect in the summer of 1955. The alert is made when the irritant level goes past a certain mark.

Hospital Auxiliary Nominating Group Presents New Slate

Officers for the coming year of Kingston Hospital Auxiliary were nominated at the March business meeting Tuesday night at the Nurses' Home. Mrs. Richard Kalish was nominated for president; Mrs. Harold Finkle, vice president; Mrs. Dominick Cioni, recording secretary; Mrs. Alfred Park, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Henry Brigham, treasurer; and Mrs. Gerald McCabe, financial secretary. Mrs. James Norton, chairman, reported the slate for the nominating committee.

A business meeting was conducted by Mrs. James Elder, president, when announcements were made for the coming activities and reports were read.

A special Lenten and Passover season program was presented by Herbert Greenwald in the form of an illustrated lecture about the Holy Land. Mr. Greenwald had visited the area several years ago and related a number of incidents regarding historic, religious and economic spots in Israel and Jordan. The economic growth of the land in the last 20 years was most noted as was the apprehensive atmosphere of the border regions between Israel and its neighbors. Arrangements for the program were made by Mrs. Dominick Cioni.

This month the auxiliary will sponsor its annual spring card party, Tuesday, April 26, at the Nurses' residence. The party will be held in the afternoon beginning at 12:30. A cake bake sale will be held in conjunction with the affair. Mrs. Chris Larios is general chairman. Anyone willing to donate for the bake sale is asked to call Mrs. George Rifenbary.

The final auxiliary meeting of the year, the May luncheon, will be held at Williams Lake, May 24, with arrangements under the direction of Mrs. George Heppner and Mrs. Kenneth Lowe Jr. A fashion show will be presented by Leventhal Furs and Fashions.

Mrs. Finkle, reporting for the membership committee, said that 47 new members have been registered this year. She introduced as new members this month: the Mmes. Chester Schramm Earl Wright, Hillary Shultz, George Tamke, Neil Whitehurst, Gregory Kevan, Peter Allen, Nathan Parnett, Dale Lake, Lawrence Siewers, John Spinnenweber, Frank Hoornbeek and Joseph Armater.

Acknowledgement was made of the St. Patrick's Day favors for the patients' trays. These were donated by the past matrons club of Kingston Chapter, Order of Eastern Star 155.

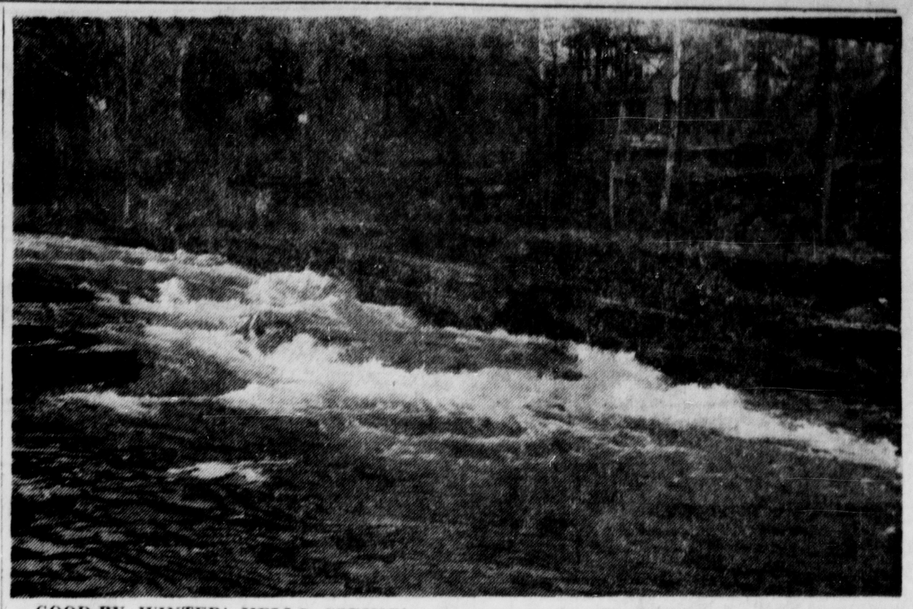

A memorial was made for the late Mrs. Burton Haver, a member of the Auxiliary.

Announcement was made of the opening of the Gift Shop under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frederic Holcomb Sr., Thursday, March 30. The shop will be open daily from 11 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. and from 7 to 8 p. m. It is located off the main lobby of the hospital.

The Snack Bar opening was set for Monday, April 4 with hours Monday through Friday 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. and Sunday afternoon 1 to 4 p. m. This also is located off the main lobby of the hospital. Mrs. James Hood, co-chairman of the project with Mrs. Raymond Armater, made the report and asked for thoughts on a name. Ideas for naming the snack bar are to be given to Mrs. William K. Gregory. Orientation for volunteers will be held Thursday morning, March 30, 10 a. m. and Friday afternoon, 1 p. m.

The next regular board meeting of the auxiliary will be Tuesday, April 19, 12:30 p. m. in the Nurses' Residence.

Following the meeting a social hour was held. Hostesses were Mrs. George Heppner, Mrs. Edward Albert, Mrs. Kenneth Lowe Jr., Mrs. G. Robert Anderson, and Mrs. Bentley Jenson.

GOOD-BY WINTER! HELLO SPRING! — The view from Sully's Bridge on Lower Ohayo Mountain Road in Woodstock heralds the season of spring. The picturesque blanket of ice and snow has been replaced with a cascading water ballet and Mother Nature is the only choreographer for this production. On a hot summer day, Freeman photographer John Kruh will find this peaceful spot changed into a scene know to many down through the years — the favorite 'ol swimming hole. The thought is enough to make one start unpacking the summer clothes. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Hope College Choir Will Wear New Robes For Kingston Concert at Fair Street Church

When the Hope College Chapel Choir gives its concert in Kingston on April 17 at the Fair Street Reformed Church, its members will be wearing their new chapel robes, as modeled above by Miss Leenhouts. All handmade, the robes were designed by the world-famous architect Charles Eames through the courtesy of the Herman Miller Company of Zeeland, Mich.

THELMA KAY LEENHOUTS

The choir is scheduled to sing here at 8 p. m. on the 17th. The public is invited to attend. A free will offering will be accepted.

The robe's basic white, cut in circular pattern, represents purity of both tone and faith; the horizontal black bars represent the musical staff, with occasional haphazard black vertical bars signifying notes. The unifying thought is effected by the light blue lining. The tonal graduations of color move from light to dark as do the voices: yellow for sopranos, organge for altos, red for the tenors, and purple for the basses.

When the Hope College Chapel Choir goes on its spring tour throughout Canada, New York and New Jersey, Miss Leenhouts, who has sung with the choir for three years, will give a short talk during each concert intermission. Well qualified to tell the Hope story, Miss Leenhouts is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leenhouts, both Hope graduates. Her brother John is a freshman at Hope. Three aunts and four uncles of Miss Leehouts are also graduates of Hope.

She is active in the Little Theater, Mortar Board, Pi Kappa Delta, Eta Sigma Phi, Student Education Association, and Delta Phi Sorority. She was co-chairman for homecoming and is a Hope cheerleader.

Dear Abby . . .

Let's Keep Church Basket Jingling!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I work as a bartender in a local entertainment center. I also take up the collection in our parish church. It makes my blood boil to see what some of our parishioners put in the collection basket. Last Sunday there were 180 dimes 256 nickels and 105 pennies.

This church has a large payroll. Teachers, domestic help, janitors, etc. The priest tells me they are hardly making ends meet. Out of 500 children in the parochial school, 150 do not pay tuition. Most of our parishioners think nothing of spending $10 for a Saturday night's ententainment, but they begrudge parting with a dollar for the upkeep of God's house. Please publish this. Some people need waking up. This is meant for people of all churches. Not only mine.

"S. K." IN L. A.

DEAR S. K.: Tougher than an elephant's hide is the conscience of the unwilling giver. He cannot be jarred into generosity by the dirty look, the spoken word or the written plea. Neither can he be shamed into it. The collection-box take is destined to be ever puny for reasons that we all know to well.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: If you hear from a woman in the Indiana area who claims that her husband is trying to kill her, don't pay any attention to her. She's my wife. She once took a bowl of oatmeal down to the corner drug store and asked the man there to "analyze" it. She said it "tasted funny," and she was sure I had put roach powder on it. The pharmacit later told her it probably "tasted funny" because there was salt on it instead of sugar, but there was nothing wrong with it.

Another time she accused me of trying to run her down with my car. She has always been a little strange, but lately she is getting worse. In case something happens to her I don't want to get blamed. How can I stay in the clear?

"WORRIED" NEAR HAMMOND

DEAR WORRIED: Even more important than your staying in the clear, is getting help for your wife who is obviously mentally ill. Tell your doctor what you've told me. And don't wait for "something" to happen. It might happen to YOU.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are the same age, but he prefers older women. I don't know why he married me. He didn't have to. Soon after we were married, I found out he had been living with a woman in her forties since he was 18. (He was then 23.) He wanted to keep on seeing her, but I put a stop to it. Then he started seeing a neighbor's wife. She was in her early fifties. We had to move away from there before she broke up our marriage. When our first child was born, I hired an ugly old woman in her sixties to help me. I thought surely my husband could be trusted with her, but I was wrong. He was with her every chance he got. Everybody tells me I am nice looking. Is there something wrong with me? Or is it him?

RIVERSIDE

DEAR RIVERSIDE: It's him.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

A nice old lady taught me this:

To keep meringue from falling on pies of course bake it slowly, but soon as the pie is removed from the oven, dip a thin knife in hot water and cut through the meringue, not the pie, in serving pieces.

Constant Reader

Dear Folks:

After trying this hint, I found I loved the idea of cutting through the meringue while the pie was still hot! Amazing when that knife was dipped in hot water how clean it cut through my warm meringue.

Now here's a few more hints I have learned about meringues from famous bakers in three fabulous hotels:

Egg whites should always be room temperature before beating. And it should take a minimum of three eggs for each pie.

After they are beaten stiff but NOT dry, sprinkle one-fourth teaspoon cream of tartar and a dash of salt on top and beat slightly.

Now . . . add SLOWLY three level tablespoonfuls of sugar for each egg white in your bowl, beating all the while. This sounds like a lot, I know, but you should see the difference in the height of your meringue and the way it stands up after the pie is done . . . wow!

Professional bakers have proven to me that the following must be observed before baking:

Always have your meringue touching the edges of the pie crust. This prevents shrinking, etc.

If the pie is put on the middle shelf (NOT the top) in your oven, it will brown evenly and the points or swirls on your meringue won't get burned.

When it is ALMOST as brown as you want it, if you turn off your oven and open the door SLIGHTLY, it will cool slowly, this prevents a meringue from cracking or splitting. Don't ever set a pie where cold drafts can get to it while it's hot. It must be cooled slowly.

And most important of all, (which I have saved till last, so that you will remember it):

NEVER put a meringue on a pie or use it anywhere else until you have tested it to see if the sugar is COMPLETELY DISSOLVED before cooking. The way to do this is to put some of it between two fingertips and rub them together.

Or (as I have just learned), it is even better to put a little of it on the tip of your tongue, rub it on the roof of your mouth and feel the undissolved sugar. "Chew" the meringue and you can even hear it grate between your teeth!

If you feel grains of sugar . . . believe it, you better keep beating some more. The grains should be completely dissolved before cooking, as this is one of the causes of "tears" on a pie. Either your eggs weren't room temperature, or you haven't beaten 'em enough.

And that's all I've stolen from the good chefs and cooks about pie meringue!

But aren't we glad they let me come into their kitchens and they taught me some of the secrets?

Bless 'em all.

Heloise

P.S. And when I asked each chef if his wife cooked pies and goodies, the answer was, "Heavens, NO! Why should she?"

Dear Heloise:

In order to keep candle drippings off my table linens, I cut either a piece of clear plastic, or clear cellophane, somewhat larger than the base of the candle holder, and lay it under the holder.

This does not detract from the appearanec of the cloth.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

Ian (Scotty) Robertson had his best playing winter in years. Alex Gerlak hardly got his sticks out of the bag. And Jim Hutchins had a bit of a backache part of the time.

In a nutshell, that would describe the Floridian adventures of our three area golf professionals, who are back at their familiar haunts ready for another big season. But there was more than that.

"I only played 3 holes all winter," said Alex Gerlak, who worked the winter at Hollywood Beach Country Club. "The first and only time I tried to play it rained after three holes.

"We had a real busy season and we again hosted the Professional Football Players tournament," he added. "Guess who won it? Jimmy Brown of the Browns. They ran something called a Calloway and he grabbed a new car for first prize."

The veteran Twaalfskill pro sounded like a man who wasn't entirely familiar with the mathematical mysteries of the Calloway system, a popular scoring method for company clambakes.

Alex wasn't lonesome on the peninsula. Among the Kingstonians who visited Hollywood during the season were Justice Harry E. Schirick, Abraham Streifer, Dr. Saul Goldfarb, Dr. Joseph Jacobson and Dr. Jack Lehner, to mention a few.

• Banner One for Scotty:

Scotty Robertson of Wiltwyck placed second with his partner in the Northeastern PGA Best-Ball event at the Royal Palm Beach Country Club and was generally satisfied with his on links performances.

"I played pretty well this winter," Scotty volunteered. "In addition to placing second in the big one, I won several of the smaller tournaments involving the Northeastern PGA gang."

In the PGA Seniors, Scotty played a brisk 27 holes but slipped somewhat on the last nine to lose a shot at first place.

"I had a nine weeks stay in Florida and it was one of my best seasons," said Scotty. And no doubt a profitable one.

J. Carson (Jim) Hutchins, the Woodstock CC professional, who wintered at Sarasota, was sidelined for a while with a pinched back muscle. But the salubrious Florida sunshine worked out the kinks and eventually he was able to play plenty of competitive golf. He qualified for the Pro-Junior-Senior at the PGA's national headquarters at Palm Beach.

Hutch described the two PGA courses as magnificent. "The East course is long, tough and heavily trapped," he said. "It's one of the finest tests of golf in the south."

• Birdies and Bogies:

George Svirsky, the new golf chairman at Twaalfskill, says the excellent response to a recent questionnaire guarantees Twaalfskill's finest tournament calendar in years . . . The 1966 schedule indicates Wiltwyck Country Club women will be busy little bees . . . William (Buzzy) Costello, one of our town's top swingers, goes to the hitching post Sunday. The young lady is Donna Wichers of Liberty . . . With an area golfer committed to run it, an Ulster county junior championship appears to be a certainty for 1966 . . . Wiltwyck's Mother-Daughter and Father-Son tournaments are a big incentive for the small fry. Area qualifying for the National PGA is scheduled May 16 at a course to be announced later.

• The Masters a Fix?:

Golf writer Gwilym Brown poses the question: Is the Masters Fixed? in a Sports Illustrated item. He points out accurately that Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus have won the Masters in seven out of the past eight years — and that may mean it has become a bad tournament.

The U.S. Open, he says, has been won by 13 different golfers in the last 13 years. "The Lemas, Venturis, Littlers, Hoberts, etc. have been on hand merely to fill out the twosomes that toil in vain around Augusta National each year."

Scoring averages show how golf's Big Three have dominated the Masters. Palmer has averaged 71.48 strokes per round, Nicklaus 71.54 and Player 71.79. Next on the list — out of those who have played 25 rounds or more — is Ben Hogan 72.31, then Casper at 72.88. No other golfer is under 73.

The long hitter, and especially one who can hook the ball, can blast away without qualm, he says. The rest of the crowd simply can't match the pace.

Editor's Note: This space will be unoccupied for the next ten days. We're heading south for a stopover at Greenbrier, then the Masters.

Surprise Witness on Stand As Milwaukee Hearings End

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A Phillies' rooter with baseball in his blood and schedules on his mind has slipped into Wisconsin's late-inning lineup, and baseball attorneys are hollering foul.

Alfred A. Bruton III, 33, of Linnwood, Pa., was ducking the high hard ones after Judge Elmer Roller allowed him to testify Friday on the 11-team schedule he devised for the now 10-team league.

Bruton, an automobile salesman, was the final state witness in the trial of Wisconsin's antitrust suit against the Braves and the National League. The month-old trial was expected to end sometime today, with a ruling by Roller likely before April 12, baseball's opening day.

"Just because he has a hobby doesn't make him an expert," said Bowie Kuhn, National League attorney, after Bruton told of spending 20 to 25 hours a week drawing mock schedules.

"I spend 24 hours a week at golf," said Earl Jinkinson, Braves' attorney, "and I still can't play."

Worked Out a Schedule

Bruton was put on the stand to demonstrate that a schedule could be worked out that would allow baseball to create an 11-team league by granting Milwaukee an expansion franchise.

The defense insisted that Bruton could not be classed as an expert witness and had no business on the stand.

Bruton's opinions, the judge said, "will be considered for what they are worth."

The battery of defense lawyers opened up on Bruton at almost every turn.

At one point, Ray T. McCann objected to a Bruton comment as stupid.

Willard Stafford, special counsel for Wisconsin, turned his wrath on McCann. "Let him cross-examine the witness and see how stupid he is," Stafford shot back.

Bruton said he designed his schedule to give each team in the league a home date in the first week of the season. Delay makes fans restless to see their team in action, Bruton said.

"I object to the remark about people getting restless," said Jinkinson.

"I get restless," replied Bruton, who never played baseball professionally. He later told reporters that "baseball is just in my blood."

Games Slated Sunday, 7:45 At Auditorium

Davies Cornhuskers, a Rockland County all-star team, will meet Spartan Pools of Kingston in the feature game of a Kingston Basketball tournament twinbill Sunday, 8:45 p. m., at the Municipal Auditorium.

In the 7:45 p. m. opener, Arlington Sports of Poughkeepsie will oppose Tony's Pizzeria.

Sunday's games will conclude action in the opening round. The semi-finals are slated next Saturday, April 9 with Sunday's winners meeting in one game and Ray's Tackle Shop opposing Schovel Tree Service in the other contest. The championship tilt is listed to be played Easter Sunday.

The Cornhuskers narrowly missed upsetting the powerful Pine Plains Bombardiers in the Hudson Valley tournament and expect to provide Spartan Pools with formidable opposition.

The roster: Art Orlando, Manhattan College; Tom Fox, Fairleigh Dickinson; Bob Carrol and Jeff Steinberger, Rockland Community College and Jim Vellane, Rhode Island.

Sileno to Play

Mike Perry, Ulster Community College coach, will be player-coach of Spartan Pools. He has obtained the services of John Sileno and Bruce Boynton, a pair of Orange Community College stars; Sam Brown, one of the city's outstanding scorers; Ray Lucas and Bob Short, who helped Ray's Tackle Shop win City League honors; Don Komosa, a local favorite and Dan Heppner, high scoring Kingston High ace. Heppner is a doubtful performer because of a foot injury.

Arlington Sports features Joe Molinaro, outstanding City league player from Poughkeepsie; Fred Weiss, John Oullett and Dennis O'Brien, ex-Marist College aces and Gerry Tellefsen, another top Bridge City performer.

Tony's is composed of Ulster Community College players and will be led by George Druttman, Paul Buytkins and Brad Meyer.

In Thursday's opening games, Schovel Tree beat Donnie Van's, 90-75, and Ray's Tackle Shop easily disposed of Food Fair, 83-44.

Highland Rated UCAL Contender

Nine lettermen are returning this season at Highland High and coach Lem Atkins feels the club will be in contention for UCAL laurels.

Lettermen are Joe Bratony, catcher; Greg Cappillino, pitcher and first base; Doug Cifone, outfield; Calvin Halstead, pitcher and first base; Jim Johnson, outfield; David Judge, outfield; John Keuleman, second base; John Passante, third base; Al Sindone, outfield.

Other candidates are Tom Canino, shortstop; James Galioto, infield; Conway Green, outfield; Allen Minnetto, pitcher and infield; Robert Palazzo, infield; Conrad Yanta, outfield.

The Highlanders, who were 12-5 last year, will be forced to play all road games since there is no field at the school

Royals Bow, 112-103

Celts, Philly Series To Commence Sunday

By C. C. McGILLICUDDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Boston turned its attention toward Philadelphia today without taking time to enjoy its comeback victory over the Cincinnati Royals in the National Basketball Association's Eastern division semi-final playoff.

Victorious Coach Red Auerbach ordered a practice session, declining to give his players a day off despite the tough series with the Royals that closed Friday night with Boston scoring a 112-103 victory in the fifth and final game.

Meanwhile, the Los Angeles Lakers trounced the St. Louis Hawks 129-106 and took a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven Western Division final.

The Celtics swing right back into action Sunday when they open the best-of-seven division final playoff against Philadelphia and Wilt Chamberlain on the 76ers' court.

"Sam was the key," said Auerbach as he discussed the scoring exploits of Sam Jones that brought the Celtics from an eight-point deficit in the first quarter to a second period lead they never lost.

"Sam's shooting is what did it. Sam and John Havlicek."

34 for Sam

Jones wound up with 34 points, getting 24 in the first half to lead Boston's rally. Havlicek had 23 points, taking over the shooting chores when Jones was lifted in the second period for a rest.

Auerbach also felt Cincinnati's failures helped Boston's cause considerably.

Smith, the hero of the first Cincinnati victory in the series, was taken out of the final game early. Coach Jack McMahon said he lifted Smith for Tom Hawkins because he wanted to get more height.

McMahon believes the tough semifinal series will help Boston in its attempt to capture its eighth consecutive NBA championship.

Jerry West and Elgin Baylor were the big guns for the home team Lakers, who outscored the Hawks 35-15 in the final period. West scored 28 points and Baylor 22. Zelmo Beaty and Richie Guerie scored 22 each for St. Louis.

The two teams play again Sunday in Los Angeles.

Two Tied With 135s In Tourney

By REESE HART

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Young Tom Weiskopf, who hated golf until eight years ago, and short-swinging Doug Sanders were tied for the lead as the $100,000 greater Greensboro Open moved into the third round today.

Weiskopf, 23, a fledgling pro seeking his first major tournament victory, played flawless golf from tee to green Friday as he shot a four under par 67 for a 135 total.

Sanders, who led the first round with 65, finished nearly four hours after Weiskopf and had to birdie the 17th hole to gain a tie. His 70 included three birdies and two bogies.

In third place at 136 was lanky Al Geiberger, who one-putted seven greens on his way to a 70 Friday.

Tied for fourth at 137 were Dave Ragan, R. H. Sikes and Steve Reid. Ragan and Reid had 68s and Sikes 69.

Three strokes off the pace at 138 were defending champion Sam Snead, Howie Johnson, Terry Dill and Terry Wilcox. Julius Boros, Joe Campbell and Bery Yancey were at 139.

Weiskopf, who caddied a few times for Jack Nicklaus when the two were students at Ohio State, hit every green in regulation Friday but had 34 putts. His 33-34 round included four birdies.

Weiskopf, whose parents are good golfers, said, "I hated golf until I was 15." It was while caddying that he took a liking to the game.

Weiskopf, who finished second in the San Diego Open this year, originally planned to pass up the Greensboro Open. He pulled out of the Citrus Open at Orlando, Fla., after the first round and went home to visit his parents in Bedford, Ohio.

Costello, Spada To Meet Sunday

Billy Costello and Dave Holly will caslh Sunday, 8 p. m. at Spada's Imperious Billiard Lounge in the final match of the City Billiard Tournament.

Both contenders are unbeaten with 8-0 records and the public is invited to attend this championship match.

Lourdes Preps For 1st Game

Our Lady of Lourdes baseball team will open its season on Apr. 18 when it hosts Kingston at the Hudson River State Hospital diamond in Poughkeepsie.

Coach Vince Dutkowski has tabbed hurler Tim O'Reilly and John Sottile and Mike Antalek, a pair of good hitters, as his top prospects.

John Martin and Bill Beal are also back from the 6-12 team of a year ago.

New varsity hopefuls are Mike Eidel, Kevin Colling, Jim Coone, Pete Gormley, Dick Tobias, Dennis Thorne, Bob Beyer, Larry Craft, Chris Jenkins and Bill Budd.

Baseball Roundup

Pair of Kansas City Pitchers Combine to No-Hit Houston

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alvin Dark, Charley Finley, a mule and a bunch of guys named Joe.

That's what the Kansas City Athletics had going for them until Paul Lindblad, one of the anonymous A's, stepped out of character and into the baseball spotlight Friday night.

Lindblad, a 24-year-old lefthander, teamed with relief specialist John Wyatt for the second no-hitter of the exhibition season as Kansas City blanked the Houston Astros 4-0.

The no-hitter came four days after Bob Veale and Luke Walker of Pittsburgh held the Los Angeles Dodgers hitless.

Lindblad worked the first six innings, retiring 11 straight batters before issuing a walk to Jim Wynn and then setting down the last seven he faced. Wyatt walked two and was helped by a diving catch by Bert Campaneris in his three-inning stint.

Last year Lindblad had a 12-11 record with Vancouver before joining the A's late in the season. He made four relief appearances for Kansas City and wound up with an earned run average of 11.57. Wyatt pitched in 65 games, all in relief, and was 2-6 with a 3.24 ERA.

Roberts Is Loser

Robin Roberts, added to the Astros' roster earlier in the day, took the loss although yielding only two hits in six innings. One of the hits off the 39-year-old right-hander, biggest winner among active pitchers, was a two-run homer by Bill Bryan in the second.

Larry Stahl closed out the scoring with another two-run homer in the eighth.

The New York Mets, last-place counterpart of the A's in the National League, whipped the Chicago White Sox 4-1 behind the strong pitching of rookie southpaws Rob Gardner and Dick Rusteck.

The San Francisco Giants rested half their team for a weekend exhibition series with the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Cleveland Indians wore out the other half 13-3, scoring 10 runs in the fifth inning off Ron Herbel and Lindy McDaniel.

Marcelino Lopez hurled seven shutout innings, allowing only three hits, as California trimmed the Chicago Cubs 5-0. Norm Siebern and Willie Smith homered for the Angels.

A three-run homer by Zoilo Versalles and Harmon Killebrew's solo blast powered the Minnesota Twins to a 10-6 victory over Cincinnati. Don Pavletich homered twice and Tommy Helms hit his first of the spring for the losers.

Carl Yastrzemski drove in four runs with a homer and bases-loaded double as the Boston Red Sox routed 24-game winner Tony Cloninger and whipped the Atlanta Braves 7-1.

St. Louis edged Detroit 7-6, Tim McCarver leading the way with three hits including a homer. The Tigers rallied for four runs in the ninth, Norm Cash and Al Kaline homering.

Yanks Bow in 11th

The Pittsburgh Pirates struck for four runs in the 11th inning and topped the New York Yankees 7-3. Bob Bailey's three-run homer pulled the Pirates even in the fourth.

John Callison pinch hit a run-scoring triple in the eighth inning and tallied the go-ahead run on Tony Gonzalez' third hit as the Philadelphia Phillies came from behind to beat Baltimore 7-5.

State Pin Tourney Has New Leaders

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — New leaders emerged in the regular division singles and in the booster team division Friday at the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Ernie Koche of Roselle, Ill., a 42-year-old salesman, shot a three-game 728 to take first place in regular singles. He rolled games of 237, 235 and 256 to overcome the lead held by Bill Williamson of Fostoria, Ohio.

Williamson dropped to second with 724 compiled March 20.

In last year's ABC tourney at St. Paul, Minn., the 700 series rolled by Kenneth Roeth of Dubuque, Iowa, won the singles championship.

Ridge Bowl of Chicago, defending booster team champion, took first place in the division Friday with 2,766. The team won the booster crown last year with 2,795.

Sause Cleaners of Ossining, N.Y., gained second place in the division with 2,713, pushing the Indianapolis Athletic Club to third with 2,691.

16 Amendments Included in ABC Constitution

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Site selection for American Bowling Congress tournaments has been assigned to a new 12-man committee in one of 16 amendments approved for the ABC Constitution.

The change, prompted by what officials said were financial losses experienced in past tournaments, was hotly debated before it was approved Friday by delegates to the ABC convention here.

At one point, delegates from Northern California walked out of the meeting. The California group hosted the ABC Tournament at Oakland in 1964.

In the past, the ABC Board of Directors has picked a site from bids submitted by various cities.

An ABC spokesman said rising costs of the tournaments led to a need for detailed study of proposed sites before a selection was made. The committee will visit the area, he said, to determine if facilities are adequate and if the tournament could be a success financially in a particular city.

The ABC lost money at Oakland and at the 1963 Buffalo tournament, the spokesman said.

The new rule eliminated a provision that the tournament be held in the Far West and Deep South at least once every 10 years.

In another changing affecting the tournament, a proposal was approved to increase prize and expense fees from $6 to $7 per man per event.

The delegates approved creation of a new collegiate division of the ABC, with a separate awards and services program for it to be worked out in the coming months by ABC officials and college athletic groups.

Another amendment raised from 16 to 19 the minimum age for bowlers who compete for cash or merchandise prizes without parental consent.

A total of 1,029 delegates — considered a record turnout — attended the convention. They elected Matthew R. Bennie, a retired Washington production engineer, to a one-year term as ABC president. He succeeds Cecil Simpson of Tulsa, Okla.

About 2.9 million youngsters participated in supervised youth baseball competition in 1965.

DeMicco Expects To File Petition For School Post

Domenick P. DeMicco, president-treasurer of DeMicco Motors Inc., 450 East Chester Street, today confirmed a report published in The Freeman that he will be a candidate for membership on the Board of Education of the Kingston Consolidated School District.

DeMicco said he expects to file nominating petitions with more than 400 signatures to the clerk of the Board of Education early next week.

He is the first area resident to announce candidacy for school district trustee. Voters in the district, who qualify by registering at the Municipal Auditorium on Friday, April 15, will elect two trustees for terms of five years each and one to fill an unexpired term of one year at the annual election on May 3.

DeMicco has operated buses in the school district the last 10 years, and has been a dealer in automobile sales in Kingston for the past 15 years. He is a member of Kingston Lions Club and St. Mary's Church.

DeMicco and his wife reside at 334 Broadway. They are the parents of two children, Bonnie, 15, and Michael DeMicco, Jr., 10 months.

The type of rock needed to make light aggregate is found mainly in the Hudson Valley, Virginia and the Carolinas. The finished produce weighs about half of what ordinary sand and gravel weighs, and is just as strong.

Congressman Resnick said that his bill is basically intended to correct an "illogical" provision in existing law which makes an arbitrary distinction between the materials used in making light weight aggregate and other mined materials.

Burglars Visit Chalet

The Rosendale constabulary was joined by state police from the Lake Katrine substation today in the investigation of an overnight burglary at the Chalet on Route 32, Rosendale. Sgt. Henry S. Rhodes, Lake Katrine, said it was not immediately known what was missing. He said that Trooper Al Broers was investigating along with Rosendale Constable John Kinstrey.

Car Salesman Injured

Joseph C. Hassett, of Lucas Avenue, Cottekill, who was injured in a traffic accident recently in Newark, N. J., was transferred from St. Michael's Hospital in that city on Friday to Benedictine Hospital by Don's Ambulance service of Rosendale. Hassett, a salesman employed by Bob Beaumont Inc., Albany Avenue, was attending a sales course in Newark. He reportedly was walking across a street when he was hit by a car. Available reports said Hassett suffered head and other injuries.

ly Buddhist student organization for holding an anti-government demonstration Thursday.

The leaflets asserted that Thursday's demonstrations kept busy a large number of police, and said that while authorities were thus occupied, the Viet Cong were able to complete their plans for Friday's bombing of a U.S. officer's billet.

There is a feeling, especially in the official U.S. community, that the chances of survival for the present military government may depend on whether the current protests remain scattered and relatively isolated.

The demonstrations have caused concern among American officials both in Viet Nam and Washington.

U.S. Consul Samuel B. Thomsen warned Americans in Da Nang to avoid crowds and stay off the streets as much as possible.

"Manifestations and other civil disturbances have taken on an anti-American tone," he said. "This situation provides the opportunity for Communists or other dissident forces to attempt to act against Americans. Individuals or groups may seek to involve Americans in incidents."

In Washington, a House subcommittee indefinitely postponed plans to visit Viet Nam at the request of the State Department.

The House Government Operations subcommittee had planned to start today for Viet Nam to investigate the U.S. air programs. Subcommittee chairman Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., said the trip would be rescheduled "as soon as the current situation clears up."

tions from the personal income tax were $86 million more than the amount estimated in the governor's 1965-66 budget message, Levitt said.

Also, he said, the revenue from the personal income tax was 13 per cent higher than in the previous fiscal year.

Adjourn Hearing In Schuman Case

Charges preferred by private complainants were withdrawn today in City Court by three individuals — three other charges against a fourth person were pending, and three motorists paid fines when they admitted separate traffic charges.

City Judge Hubert A. Richter adjourned to April 9 hearing on a charge of resisting arrest against John G. Schuman, 27, of 177 Wall Street. A second charge of third degree assault preferred by his wife, Ruth Schuman, was pending Family Court action; while disposition of a third charge of malicious mischief was withheld pending outcome of the other cases.

Made Restitution

Schuman was arrested last March 19 and reportedly smashed a window at City Hall while being brought to police headquarters. Police said that Schuman made restitution for the window damage. The charge of resisting arrest was preferred by Patrolman Weston Hoffay.

Withdrawn were third degree assault charges against Dennis Alexander, 23, of Port Ewen, which had been preferred by Alfred Bell, of 13 Prince Street, and against Donald Dermody, 29, of 144 Spring Street, which had been filed by Charles Fisher, of 79 Foxhall Avenue. The arrests followed a complaint at a local grill which required police help.

Traffic Fines Paid

Also withdrawn was a third degree assault charge lodged against Alfredo Cruz Gonzales, 21, of 3 Franklin St., by Michele Provenzano, of 121 Cedar St.

Paying fines upon their pleas of guilty to traffic charges were George E. Merwin, 17, of Lake Katrine, cited by Officer Harry Short for speeding, and Major Harden, 54 Gill St., also cited for speeding, both fined $10, and Ernest Stays, 23, of Sunset Garden Apartments, fined $5 for driving with unsafe tires.

7 Churches . . .

Bishop Gibson said. "This has not been agreed upon by anybody. This is an outline of possible union."

May Take 50 Years

He stressed that the proposal will be subject to continual discussion and revision and estimated it may take as long as 50 years to accomplish full unification.

The outlined proposal on church structure lists these six steps toward unification:

1. Consultation — already in progress.
2. Acceptance of the outline of a unity plan — which may or may not be achieved at the Dallas meeting.
3. Adoption of a plan of union.
4. Actual unification of members and clergy, with each denomination retaining a degree of sovereignty but surrendering some autonomy.

Need Constitution

5. Writing and adoption of a constitution.
6. Achievement of the goal of a united Christianity, the step beyond unification of denominations.

Gibson said it might take 4 to 10 years between the second and third steps and a generation between the fourth and fifth.

Both Gibson and Blake, however, said there probably always would be differences in forms and rituals between the various denominations, especially regarding the sacraments and baptism.

Air Condition Project

Kingston Knitting Mills, Inc. announced today that work has started on a project to completely air-condition one of its main buildings. The entire sewing department, which is housed in a 10,000-square-foot building, is being air-conditioned by Electric Products, Inc. of Poughkeepsie. Job completion is scheduled for the end of April. Kingston Knitting Mills has been in Kingston since 1934 and manufactures men's and boy's knitted outerwear. The plant is located at Cornell Street and Ten Broeck Avenue, in central Kingston.

Smash Westchester Gambling Ring, Hold 6

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — Police say they have smashed a $1 million-a-year gambling ring with the arrests of six persons, including four attractive housewives accused of taking 25 to 100 calls a week from bettors since Dec. 1.

The women, all of whom are mothers of two or more children, each made $100 a week to operate the answering service from their homes between household chores, police said Friday. They were accused of taking coded telephone numbers from bettors and relaying them to bookmakers.

"There were big bettors, no $2 stuff," said a spokesman for the district attorney's office. "The bets ran anywhere from $10 to $300 each."

A parttime bartender, George Rainaldi, 42, of Mamaroneck, was accused of operating the ring and recruiting the women. He was charged with three counts of bookmaking.

Another man, David Grande, 25, of New Rochelle, a tree surgeon, was charged with bookmaking conspiracy.

The women, all charged with conspiracy, are Carmella Perri, Jane Iannarelli, and Zosh Colleluori, all 29 from Mamaroneck and Louise Shampnois, 32, of White Plains.

Rail Tieup . . .

nal Railroad Co. which said it was an innocent bystander in the strike.

In Omaha, Neb., a Union Pacific representative said the road had 25,000 idle workers and was losing up to $1 million a day because of the strike.

The strike has halted up to 1,100 carloads of perishables on the U.P. a railroad spokesman said.

One railroad, the Central of Georgia, filed a damage suit against the union, claiming it was losing up to $225,000 a day in revenue.

Hits Passenger Service

In Richmond, Va., the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, announced Friday night that it was stopping all its streamliners between New York City and Florida and Atlanta-Birmingham, Ala. A spokesman said the road's freight service was "practically at a standstill."

In Los Angeles, the strike ended virtually all operations of the Santa Fe, the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific railroads at Union Terminal. Only 3 of 600 regular workers crossed picket lines Friday.

The Post Office reported backlogs and began to send some first class letters airmail. All other classes of mail were backed up and a moratorium on deliveries was being considered.

The rail strike is "paralyzing the Idaho potato industry," an officer of a grower-shipper association said in a telegram to Idaho Senators Frank Church, D., and Len Jordan, R., Friday.

Mines Feel Pinch

Pennsylvania coal mines felt the pinch of the strike. The Pennsylvania Railroad said some 1,500 cars loaded with coal are piled up in the Johnstown area. The delay in coal shipments is expected to have some effects on generating plants and steel mills in the East.

No trains moved on the Boston & Maine Railroad Friday. Up to 1,000 cars jammed the road's yards in South Portland, Maine, but a railroad officer said all perishable cargoes were protected in refrigerator cars.

In Chicago, J.E. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the eight struck lines, said railroad officers would issue embargoes on all shipments to and from the struck lines "whenever the congestion of traffic makes it apparent that cargoes will not reach their destinations."

One railroad, the Texas & Pacific, announced such an embargo on all shipments of livestock, perishables and packing house products, to take effect Sunday.

Wolfe estimated that the eight strikebound lines are losing at least $3.5 million a day in gross loss of revenue. He estimated that the 8,000 striking firemen are losing some $320,000 a day in wages.

Sentence Oswego Man

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP)—Howard R. Thompson Jr., 18, of Oswego, is to be sentenced April 7 for the second-degree murder in the strangling of a 3-year-old Oswego girl.

Thompson pleaded guilty to that charge Friday before Judge Don H. Stacy of Oswego County Court.

Originally, the teen-ager was charged with first-degree murder in connection with the death of Cheri Jean Bivens, whose body was found Sept. 2 near her home here.

File Contempt Suit Against Striking Union

WASHINGTON AP) — Railroad attorneys went into court today to seek contempt of court findings against the striking AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, now in the third day of a walkout in defiance of a federal court order.

U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff, who earlier this week issued a temporary restraining order to halt all strikes on eight major railroads, scheduled a hearing for 11 a.m. on the railroads' request to find the union in contempt.

The action was a flat rejection of one of the conditions the union had set Friday as a price for ending the walkout.

Obviously the railroads hoped the potential penalties of contempt would force a return to work.

Expect Rail . . .

gram. Railroad officials said the walkout was an attempt to force carriers to bargain to restore the eliminated jobs.

U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff in Washington issued a temporary restraining order sought by the railroads Thursday, telling the firemen to go back to work because "we have a war, and also the entire public is affected, aside from the war."

Firemen then asked a U.S. Court of Appeals here to stay the order. In a 2-1 decision Friday, the higher court declined to interfere.

A few hours later, Gilbert met with Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and then told a news conference the union would end the strike if the railroads would meet the conditions. In Chicago, Wolfe agreed the railroads would not conduct reprisals against individual workers. "We feel that these men were misled by the union officers," Wolfe said.

May Seek Litigation

But Wolfe said it would be up to each railroad president to decide about possible court action. His mention of pending litigation referred, an aide explained, to injunctions and contempt citations sought by the carriers.

Gilbert said Wolfe's reply to the union offer "has deficiencies. It leaves something to be desired."

Wolfe, asked for comment on Gilbert's reaction to his telegram, said: "He went about half as far as I expected him to. I think that is very encouraging."

The railroad spokesman said Central of Georgia asked federal court in Brunswick, Ga., to assess $225,000 in damages against the union for each day of the strike and also asked, in a separate action, that the union be held in contempt.

Files Contempt Suit

The Seaboard Air Line Railroad filed a contempt suit in Birmingham, Ala., federal court. A Union Pacific spokesman said his company is considering a damage suit because the strike costs the line $1 million a day.

Wolfe, asked if he thought other railroads would file damage suits, said: "Obviously they have been damaged. The costs will equal or exceed $3.5 million a day as long as the strike continues. It is safe to say that all the damaged railroads have the right to seek recovery."

The Interstate Commerce Commission authorized nonstruck railroads to reroute their traffic and made it possible for trucks and buses to meet transportation needs.

The strike also had these far-flung effects:

—An estimated 65,000 actomobile industry employes were off work on shortened hours. Across the nation, more than 100,000 workers were off duty, on short hours or under layoff notices.

Delay in Mails

—The Post Office reported some delays in the movement of mail. Some 700,000 Social Security checks were airlifted from Philadelphia to Columbus, Ohio, so they could be delivered on time.

—In Chicago, 32,500 persons who normally use the Illinois Central had to find other ways to get to work. In Boston, 12,000 customers of the Boston & Maine faced the same problem. Ordinary traffic jams worsened as commuters headed for home in buses and cars.

—Working railroad employes, including supervisors, attempted to move cars loaded with perishables before they could spoil. Supervisors moved cattle cars off a California desert to protect the steers. Nine thousand freight cars stacked up near Pittsburgh.

ATTENTION

All Studebaker Owners

Beichert's Port Ewen Garage will continue to provide service for all STUDEBAKER owners in the area. Genuine STUDEBAKER parts are available from our stock and from nearby PARTS DEPOTS with overnight delivery service.

The 2-year or 24,000 mile WARRANTY on Studebaker cars will be honored by Port Ewen Garage. STUDEBAKER owners need have no apprehension regarding the Warranty, if their cars are in the Warranty period. Port Ewen Garage has been appointed by the Studebaker Automotive Sales Corporation as the AUTHORIZED SERVICE DEALER for this area.

This continuation of service and availability of parts is your assurance that you will be able to maintain your Studebaker in good mechanical condition for many years.

Because it is, and always has been, a fine car, we are confident that you will continue to receive a full measure of value from your STUDEBAKER.

We have a very limited stock of NEW 1966 Studebakers for sale as well as some good, late-model, one-owner Studebakers. Prices have been drastically reduced.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act if they offer less than legal minimum wages or pay wage differentials based on sex. Most employees engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and time and one-half for hours worked over 40 in a week. Beginning September 3, 1964, most employes in certain large retail service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and time and one-half for hours worked over 42 in a week. The Act also requires equal pay for equal work for men and women. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act, call or write the U. S. Labor Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y., 10452, WYandotte 2-1235.
IMPORTANT NOTICE: The New York State Law against Discrimination and the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibit discrimination in employment because of sex unless based on a bona fide occupational qualification. Help Wanted and Situation Wanted advertisements are arranged in columns captioned "Male" and "Female" for the convenience of readers and are not intended as an unlawful limitation or discrimination based on sex.

I am tired of talking to "pros" who know "everything," and youngsters who think their good looks alone entitle them to $200 a week.
I am looking for a man who will "learn and listen," who wants to build a career—with no limit on earnings, no lay offs, no strikes—selling the nation's oldest, largest and most respected family food service.
This man will be in business for himself (without investment), building life long accounts, friendships and an income—the first year—of $10,000 to $12,000.
A strong training program, bonuses, incentives and company benefits will be his upon acceptance.

Injured in Mishap

A Poughkeepsie motorist was injured in a one-car accident about 5:40 p. m. Friday on West Dorsey Lane in the Town of Hyde Park. State police at the Rhinebeck-Hyde Park substation said that Irving Bucko, 36, of Haviland Road, Poughkeepsie, said he was traveling west on West Dorsey Lane when an unknown car which crossed more than half the road forced his vehicle off the north side of the road where the Bucko vehicle struck a tree. Bucko was taken to St. Francis' Hospital, Poughkeepsie, where he complained of chest pains. Trooper J. P. O'Neil investigated.

Burned Fatally

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — A 2-year-old girl was burned fatally Friday in her crib by a fire that, State Police say, was started by her brother playing with a cigarette lighter.

Chrisina Zamora of Ithaca, died at Tompkins County Hospital about two hours after her parents discovered the crib afire.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Zamora.

Midsection Has Raw Weather; Elsewhere Clear

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHICAGO (AP)—Raw, damp weather covered a portion of the nation's midsection today, but clear and dry weather prevailed elsewhere.

In the Southwest, record high temperatures sent weathermen scurrying for record books.

New high readings were posted Friday in at least six Western states.

Burns, Ore., had 78; in Arizona, Phoenix had 96 and Winslow 82; Fresno, Calif., reported 90 degrees; in Idaho, Boise had 82 and Pocatello 73; in Nevada, Winnemucca had 83, Ely 73 and Reno 88; and at Helena, Mont., the high was 75 degrees.

Friday was the third straight day of 100-plus readings in the desert Southwest.

Inland, from the Great Lakes to New Hampshire, scattered snow flurries were reported early today.

At Erie, Pa., one inch of new snow fell in the early hours.

Scattered light showers fell from the Ohio Valley to the Carolinas and southern New England and in the northern Rockies. The rainfall was generally less than one-tenth of an inch.

At Roanoke, Va., less than one-half of an inch of rain fell during March. It was the driest March since records were posted 54 years ago.

Below normal precipitation also was reported in Arkansas, Mississippi, northern Louisiana, west Tennessee, southern Missouri and eastern Oklahoma.

Will Hear Candidates

Alexander Aldrich of Columbia County, who seeks the Republican nomination for Member of Congress, and Hamilton Fish Jr., of Dutchess County, who also seeks the GOP nomination, will appear as guests of the Town of Marbletown Republican Club on Thursday, April 7 at High Falls. They will debate the issues and their individual qualifications at 9 p. m. at the High Falls fire house.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, April 2, the 92nd day of 1966. There are 273 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1917, President Woodrow Wilson asked Congress to declare war against Germany. Wilson told a joint session of Congress: "The world must be made safe for democracy."

On this date

In 1792, the establishment of the U.S. Mint was authorized by Congress.

In 1805, the Danish author of fairy tales, Hans Christian Anderson, was born.

In 1872, Samuel F.B. Morse, the inventor of the telegraph, died in New York City.

In 1945, American troops swept inland on Okinawa after carrying out the largest amphibious operation of the Pacific war.

Ten years ago — Alfred P. Sloan Jr., 80, retired as chairman of the board of General Motors Corp.

Five years ago—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was on his first overseas mission under President John F. Kennedy.

One year ago — President Johnson presided over a meeting of the National Security Council which decided to increase U.S. military and economic aid to South Viet Nam in its war against the Viet Cong.

Child Hurt in Mishap

A two-year-old girl was reported injured in a traffic mishap Friday afternoon in which she struck her forehead on the dashboard of a car operated by her mother. An entry on the police blotter reported that Margaret Scully, 31, of 40 Liberty Street, said that she was driving north on Washington Avenue at Lucas Avenue when a southbound truck made a left turn onto Lucas. She said she stopped her car instantly, causing her two-year-old daughter, Peggy, to strike the dashboard. The girl was taken to Kingston Hospital. Police said there was no collision between the car and truck.

Koenig in Hospital

Clarence H. Koenig, 50, Sunset Ridge, New Paltz, was admitted to Kingston Hospital Friday, after he was taken there by Don's Ambulance of Rosendale. His condition was listed as satisfactory. Mrs. Koenig said today that her husband suffered a back injury some years ago, and a reoccurrence yesterday necessitated hospitalization.

Makes Another Appeal for Son In Kidnapping

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Aaron Goldman has been sleeping only a couple of hours a day since his 18-year-old son was kidnaped from his home before dawn last Monday.

His eyes red-rimmed, the wealthy contractor went before television cameras Friday and made his second public appeal to the husky middled-aged man who took his only child:

Please, please make contact immediately.

"Danny's mother and I have been in a state of shock since our son was forcibly taken from our home last Monday morning.

"We have raised the required $25,000 expecting the kidnaper's call between 6 and 7 Monday evening.

"Since, in words of the abductor, all he wants is money, and all we want is our son Danny back, we will immediately turn over the money in return for the safe delivery of our son."

The Goldman's lawyer, Robert Traurig, said there have been no developments despite round the clock work by police and FBI.

Goldman's appearance was taped and broadcast nationally by three networks.

Newsmen were not permitted to question him.

Three days ago the Goldmans asked, through the attorney, that news media reduce their coverage of the case in hopes it might entice the kidnaper to make contact. All agreed.

Term Easter . . .

spokesman for Shoe Giant said that "We were selling boots when we should have been selling shoes." He described business as being "very good."

A spokesman for Rowe's in the Uptown section said that business was "exceptional" and the fact that children would be on Easter vacation a week earlier than last year would provide customers with more time to do their holiday shopping.

If it is true that the sprawling area shopping centers were "taking away" the business in the city's other shopping area, it was not evident in the Uptown area.

A check with members of the Uptown Merchant's Shopping Association revealed the following sample comments.

Well Ahead

"Well ahead of last year."

"An increase (in sales) of 22 per cent in January and 15 per cent in February compared with the same months a year ago."

Frank Kolts, Association president, said that most of the merchants feel that since this is the first time that school vacation occurs the week before Easter, it will mark the "big week" for all merchants.

And the "big week" also began for Kingston Consolidated School System youngsters who started vacation with the close of school session Friday and return Wednesday, April 13. School officials pointed out that the holiday calendar was in accordance with state recommendations to coincide with both Christian and Jewish feast days.

Legend has it that Thomas Alva Edison was the first to say "hello" over the telephone.

Torraca Praises Phone Firm for Aiding in Arrest

Joseph P. Torraco, Ulster county district attorney, today issued a statement praising the New York Telephone Company for the cooperation they extended to his office and to the Detective Division of the Kingston Police Department in the apprehension of a Kingston man for malicious telephone calls.

The recent investigation conducted by Detectives Charles McCullough and Albert Hutton, Torraca said, led to the arrest of Thomas P. Doyle of 16 Valley street, Kingston, on a charge of malicious telephone calls in violation of Section 555 of the Penal Law of the state, to which Doyle pleaded guilty in City Court.

Doyle was sentenced on Friday by City Court Judge Hubert Richter to six months in the county jail to start on April 5. Attorney John J. Schick appeared for Doyle and Assistant District Attorney James H. Fisher appeared for the prosecution.

District Attorney Torraca said that there have been many complaints of malicious telephone calls lodged by area residents over the past year and it has become a serious problem.

Without the cooperation of the management of the New York Telephone Company, who gave the services of its security men and field men to work with the city detectives, Torraca said, the successful investigation of the Doyle case would not have been possible.

Some British . . .

Liberals 12, gain of 2, Irish Republican-Labor 1, up 1. The non-voting speaker was re-elected.

The crushing Conservative defeat may bring on a struggle for the party leadership, now held by Edward Heath, but he was expected to hold off any challenge.

A number of top Tories crashed to defeat at the polls Thursday. Among them were Peter Thorneycroft, former defense minister, and Julian Amery, leader of the party's right wing.

Heath, a 49-year-old bachelor, said he saw two main reasons for his party's defeat. One was that Wilson's government had only 17 months in office and the electorate believed it should be given a longer trial.

The other was "a general feeling of prosperity in the country," from the nine per cent increases in wages he said were granted during Wilson's 17-month term.

"The voters refused to heed our warnings of economic danger ahead," Heath said.

Youth Will Face

drove the car to Malden where he was forced to stop because of mechanical trouble. Sergeant Rhodes said the youth left the car in a yard at the home of John Adams. The accused youth, troopers said, went to a neighbor's yard and stole a 1959 car belonging to Henry Auer, Malden.

Troopers said Washburn was driving Auer's car when picked up by state police at Fort Montgomery.

A report of BCI Investigator Fred Grunewald and Trooper James Fitzgerald, who investigated, said Washburn broke into a car owned by Melvin Rose of Malden, and stole a pair of gloves, flashlight, jackknife and other articles.

Youth Is Accused Of Motel Larceny

Accused of stealing cash and personal articles with a total value of $188, Fernando Morales, 22, of 2 Washington Square Village, New York City, was arrested Friday by BCI Investigator L. M. Luongo and Trooper A. R. Broers of the Kingston subseation.

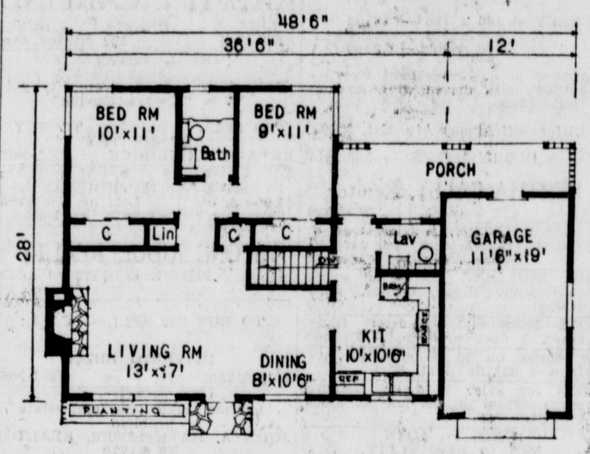

Morales was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Rudolph C. Baumgarten, Town of Woodstock, on a charge of second degree larceny. He waived preliminary examination and was committed to the Ulster County jail to await grand jury action.

The alleged theft occurred at a Woodstock motel.

Woman Hurt at Home

Helga Gaarder, 66, of Atwood Road, Stone Ridge, was injured in a mishap at her home this morning. She was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Don's Ambulance after suffering a fractured hip, it was reported.

Smart New Ranch Home Has Garage, Covered Porch

By JACK McELENEY

Given an overall size of 28 by 48½ feet, Associated Architects have come up with a lovely ranch-type home, "The Arundale," that includes a full-sized garage and covered rear porch.

It's a versatile as well as attractive home. The porch is so situated that it gives sheltered access to and from the garage to the house proper, and the porch may be used for adult recreation, for children's play or for cool summer dining.

Moreover, there is a separate lavatory (in addition to the full bath) conveniently located between the porch and kitchen, and close enough to the basement steps and the garage to insure clean hands after a session in the home workshop or with the car.

For greater privacy, both bedrooms are at the rear, separated by the bath. Each of the rooms has a corner window—a good looking detail—one that gives natural light and ventilation.

Squared-off corners, sliding doors and high windows are combined to permiit greatest use of wall space. This makes it simpler, as well as economical, to decorate, because special furniture or installations are not necessary.

The bedroom closets, by the way, are huge—you can see their relative size in the accompanying floor plan. A linen closet, close by the bedroom doors, eases the job of housekeeping.

The living room, 13 by 17 feet, and the dining area, 8 by 10½ feet, adjoin each other in order to give the impression of one very large room. Adequately fitted with windows, each of these rooms enhances the other. For example, the living room can carry any overflow of guests when you are serving in the dining area. Similarly, the fireplace, which casts its cheerful air throughout the living room, may be seen from the dining area for all to enjoy.

The compact kitchen has space for the appliances and counter space you'll need. A built-in broom closet solves the problem of where to keep cleaning materials, so often left unanswered in homes of this price range.

I think you'll want to see the plans of "The Arundale" to convince yourself that this is the home for you. Prints may be ordered at moderate cost by filling out the attached coupon.

(Be sure to add 30 cents to blueprint orders to cover costs of postage and handling.)

Please note if you want plans with or without a basement. Incidentally, you'll want to know that the cubage of the home with basement is 18,000 cubic feet and that it is 14,700 cubic feet without basement. The living area is 825 square feet, to which may be added 310 square feet for covered porch and garage.

Plans for this home conform with property and building requirements of the Federal Housing Administration (FHA). For safety against fire, electrical wiring called for is to meet the National Electrical code.

Your blueprints show how you may build "The Arundale" with wood siding, concrete block or brick veneer—all useful and appealing materials. And by the way, your order will bring you (at no additional charge) a set of specifications to help protect your investment.

Matching Table Top

If you are having a floor or wall surfaced with ceramic tile, consider tiling a table top with the same pattern and color. The effect is unusual and a conversation starter. Top grade ceramic tile, now available quality certified by the Tile Council of America, can be specified for such home projects.

Random Pieces

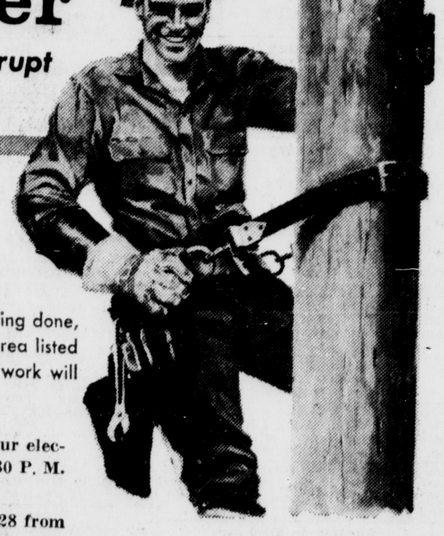

Very often it is possible for a ceramic tile wall to be modernized without ripping out the entire installation. The trade association of domestic ceramic tile manufacturers suggests that the newly popular decorative tiles can be placed at random in finished walls if the older tiles are carefully taken out.

Mary Martin Stars in Joy-Filled Easter Special on Palm Sunday

By DON ROYAL

NEW YORK—The rehearsal hall of Second Avenue in downtown New York could accommodate a full symphony orchestra and a many-voiced glee club.

But at the moment, it was nearly empty. Shafts of sunlight spotlighted folding chairs stacked neatly against the windowed wall. Away off on the other side, a lone piano with poised player stood vigil in the center of the huge room. An order to proceed was anticipated momentarily.

"Once more from the top," commanded the slim, trim man in charge, who was dressed in a gray rib-knit sweater, tan cuffless pants and white deck shoes.

The pianist's hands lightly massaged the keyboard, invoking a danceable tune. The man in tan was standing beside a black leotard-clad honey blonde. Instantly, both of them quick-stepped into an intricate routine of hops, skips and high-kicks until the music ceased.

THE DIRECTOR was Gower Champion. His dancing companion was Mary Martin, who commented during the ensuing break: "I haven't danced this strenuously in 25 years."

It was said in a matter of fact, informational tone of voice. Miss Martin is a perfectionist and she was in rehearsal for her singing, dancing and hosting roles on the color special, "Mary Martin at Eastertime with the Radio City Music Hall," which will be presented on Palm Sunday, April 3, 7:30-8:30 p. m., Eastern time, over the NBC television network.

Still possessed of the lean look of the professional dancer who had captivated movie audiences as half of the dance and marital team of Marge and Gower Champion, Gower was rehearsing his star in his capacity as producer-director of the full-hour special.

BOTH MISS MARTIN and Champion envisioned their television collaboration with the kind of dedication they brought to their previous theatrical efforts. But this was a show which would not have the rough spots smoothed over in a pre-Broadway tryout in New Haven. So during the more than a month of intense rehearsals, both star and producer-director concentrated on devotion to detail and desire for excellence which has characterized previous efforts.

Miss Martin began enchanting audiences at the age of five when she made her first appearance at a fireman's ball in her hometown, Weatherford, Tex.

Since then, she has traveled on to grace the stages of the world, including her recent tour with "Hello Dolly!" in which she played to battle-garbed troops in Viet Nam and formal-attired royalty and other dignitaries in London's Drury Lane Theater.

Her other unforgettable theatrical triumphs include starring roles in "One Touch of Venus," "Lute Song," "South Pacific," "The Sound of Music," Peter Pan," "Kind Sir," and "Annie Get Your Gun."

Miss Martin who has rarely starred in more than one television special during a video season was seen in two other NBC-TV programs prior to her April 3rd show.

On Jan. 21, a new generation of youngsters saw her take flight in the title role of "Peter Pan," which was colorcast for the fifth time.

"MARY MARTIN: Hello Dolly 'Round the World," a program featuring a television portrait of one of the most exciting theatrical tours ever conducted by an internationally-known star, was presented on Feb. 7.

Although Champion won his celebrity status with motion picture performances in musical hits such as "Show Boat," "Lovely to Look At," "Everything I Have Is Yours," "Three for the Show" and "Jupiter's Darling," he has garnered even more stature for his behind-the-scene creativity on Broadway. As director-choreographer, he has had a significant role in making "Bye Bye Birdie," "Carnival" and "Hello, Dolly!" reward the angels of these shows with heavenly profits.

The third important ingredient in this television salute to the Easter and spring season is the participation of the Radio City Music Hall's renowned Rockettes, corps de ballet and glee club. For the first time in its 33-year history, the Music Hall is permitting the televising of its traditional "Glory of Easter" pageant.

"GLORY OF EASTER" has been seen annually since the first Music Hall Easter show in 1933, about four months after the world's largest indoor theater opened its doors.

For the pageant, the stage is transformed into a valued Gothic cathedral. A soloist, accompanied by a mixed choral ensemble and orchestra, sings Anton Rubinstein's "Kamenoi Ostrow," culminating with the entire company of lily-bearing artists forming a living cross before the altar.

With this television special, Miss Martin achieves one of her fondest dreams — the chance to dance with the Rockettes in one of their typical routines. Miss Martin, who rehearsed diligently for this assignment, regarded her dance date with the precision troupe as a labor of love.

On the show, she'll introduce each Rockette by name and home town.

Incidentally, the Rockettes, who range in height from five feet five at the ends of the line to five feet eight in the center, are placed on stage according to size, creating the illusion that they are all the same height.

Another unusual aspect of the special is a musical acknowledgement of spring for which the stage of NBC's Brooklyn Studio was decorated with thousands of live flowers. A brilliant and varied array of color envelops Miss Martin as she rhapsodizes about "Blue Skies," "It's a Lovely Day" and even does some "Singin' in the Rain."

"MARY MARTIN at Eastertime with the Radio City Music Hall" promises to be an entertaining, effervescent, seasonal special. Some of the talented off-camera people who helped to make it so include Richard Halliday, as executive producer, and Bill Colleran, who shared the directing chores with producer-director Gower Champion. It was written by Lou Solomon, with Jay Blackton as musical director, Jan Scott as scenic designer and Richard H. Thomas as associate producer.

BEST BET—Mary Martin at Eastertime with the Radio City Music Hall salutes Spring and the lavish stage productions of New York's mammoth movie palace, Radio City. But mostly it's a coy and tuneful showcase for its star, Miss Martin, who acts half her age, kicking high with the Rockettes and playing a befuddled magician assistant to comic Paul Hartman. She scores best in a nun's white rabbit, joining the huge ensemble in its solemn "Glory of Easter" pageant. Filmed more than a year ago, the special was delayed because of the lack of sponsors. 7:30-8:30 (NBC) (color).

MARY MARTIN and magician Paul Hartman make magic, here, in Radio City's stage. Mary Martin makes magic of her own particular enchantment in her Eastertide special. Sunday, April 3, NBC-TV, 7:30-8:30 Eastern time.

A Southerner Covers Dixie, Sees 'Real' Civil Rights Story

ABC News Correspondent Tom Jarriel grew up in the South, but "never really knew the civil rights story" until he began to cover it.

As a youngster, says Jarriel, ABC News' Atlanta bureau chief, "these aren't things you look for or examine . . . Then you go back as a reporter and see the poverty and hopelessness and ignorance . . . on both sides."

Like most newsmen covering the integration story in the South, Jarriel has been the target of vegetables and rockss—and even gunfire. On one civil rights story a man standing next to him was shot. On another occasion, Jarriel and his crew, traveling in an unmarked but identifiable car along a notorious stretch of Route 80 from Montgomery to Jackson, were forced off the road by a vituperative, threatening man brandishing a pistol. Challenging the newsmen with "Are you looking for trouble?" the man ordered everyone out of the car. But Jarriel stayed put, and he's convinced this unsettled their adversary and may have been what prevented him from firing.

Noting that most of the civil rights victims have been attacked from ambush, Jarriel observes that "the people who make most of the trouble are generally ignorant and cowardly."

Jarriel has found that, at first, Southerners almost always associate newsmen with the civil rights activists but that as time goes on they begin to recognize the newsmen's objectivity. Because of his soft, southern drawl, Jarriel may have encountered iess suspicion from "rednecks," but he's had his share of rock-pelting and firecrackers exploding when doing a stand-up television report.

"We always worry," he says, "how far to take our camera crew into a situation fraught with potential danger to them." Once in Bogalusa, for example, when Negroes postponed a scheduled integration march, the disappointed gang of toughs awaiting them with chains and bricks, still spoiling for a fight, moved on to the newsmen. By agreement, the newsmen slowly packed up their gear and moved away before they became the story.

What complicates life in the South for a newsman is that both sides as well as FBI and city police plant "spies" among newsmen Jarriel says. At one church rally, a man identified a tall man standing near the door, wearing a wristwatch and carrying a camera, as a spy. The "spy" was standing next to a photographer who fit the description equally well, and it was he, not the spy, who was threatened by the crowd.

Jarriel, who's covered all the manned Gemini space shots for ABC, either from Houston or Cape Kennedy, welcomed his GT-8 space assignment as a change of pace from his usual "beat." He recently covered the Mossler trial, the announcement by Gov. Wallace's wife that she would run to succeed him; and the tornado in Jackson in addition to civil rights stories.

Jarriel has detected a trend toward more subtlety on both sides of the civil rights controversy—whites tending to leave demonstrators alone; Negroes making greater use of legislation and voting rights. He says old segregationist sheriffs are going campaigning in Negro districts for the first time, adding, "They obviously can't expect to win Negro votes if they don't pay any attention to solving their problems."

In one well-known area where white voters outnumber Negroes, Jarriel reports, Negroes are running a white candidate to oppose the man they want to unseat, feeling that if they ran a Negro candidate, all the white electorate would come out for their opponents.

Jarriel sees a change toward moderation coming in the South gradually. "People quickly adapt," he saids, "when they accept that "this is the way it is; this is the way it's going to be.'"

Born in La Grange, Ga., Jarriel moved to Savannah, attended high school in Shreveport, La., and college at the University of Houston, where he played varsity tennis. In college he found journalism to his liking, worked on the school newspaper and did sports publicity. After graduation, he joined radio-TV station KPRC, Houston, working his way up from copy boy to news editor in seven years, with a variety of newsfilm and newscasting assignments along the way, and a two-year hiatus for service as chaplain's assistant in the U. S. Army. He and his wife, Joan, have three son, ages 2, 5 and 8.

Sense of Humor

David McCallum has a lovely sense of humor, and a way with words when he is describing some of the things that have happened to him since his huge success in The Man From U.N.C.L.E. For instance there was the parade in Baltimore where "I was supposed to ride the NBC Peacock Float. But it was pouring rain and the colors ran, so I didn't."

Later, he went to an auditorium for a reception during which he was given the keys to the city.

"But the man who was speaking was using a mike that had a pre-echo and nine post echoes. I couldn't hear what he was saying, but he kept turning and smiling at me, so I smiled back. Then there was applause, and I didn't know if I should stand and make a speech or not. I never did."

Kiley Makes Love To Phantom Lady

BY BILL BYERS

NEW YORK—Wondering why some of the better actors don't do more television?

The reason they shy away from the medium is not always because they can earn more money and have more creative fun elsewhere. Richard Kiley's latest experience is an example.

"It's become a deadly cold medium," said the popular and highly regarded Broadway actor — after a recording session for the ABC-TV documentary series. This Proud Land.

He had agreed to be the voice of Andrew Jackson in the series' "The South" segment mainly because one of his favorite actresses, Joan Fontaine, was to be the voice of Jackson's wife, Rachel.

But when Kiley got to the New York recording studios, he discovered that Miss Fontaine had already read her part, and left. He never did get to meet her.

"At first they weren't even going to play back her part," the handsome, lean-faced actor said. "They expected me to make love to thin air."

Finally the technicians got around to playing Rachel's love letters to President Jackson, and Kiley acted as if Miss Fontaine was next to him.

Kiley, who is presently packing them in the musical, "Man of La Mancha," in the leading role of Cervantes, has not been too active on television since its early days of live broadcasts. He was on the first U. S. Steel Hour and loved the experience.

RICHARD KILEY

In recent years, most of the actor's energy has gone to the theater. He has been in a string of hits — "Redhead," "No Strings," "Advise and Consent," "Time Limit," and now his most successful personal triumph, "Man of La Mancha."

However, none has made him the big, big star like many television favorites.

Yet, Kiley has stoutly refused to be connected with a weekly series. He turned down the part of Richard Kimble on The Fugitive which made David Janssen a household name.

Producers Tumble Like Bad Guys in Wild, Wild West

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —Can a television series go through nine producers in its first season and still find success?

In the case of "Wild, Wild West," the answer is yes.

Originator Back

The woolly CBS Western totaled that many production bosses before settling back with the man who originated the show, Mike Garrison. Most series that suffer such upheavals shuffle off to oblivion at the end of the season.

"We're the only show this season that has consistentlly built an audience," says Robert Conrad, who stars as James T. West on the series.

"Look at the other shows that started out big. 'Shenandoah'——where is it now? Like about No. 63 in the ratings. 'I Spy'? It never has been able to keep up a rating. It's what I call a newspaper hit; the critics liked it, but it hasn't scored with the public.

"Our latest share of audience is 43. What does that mean? Well, 'Bonanza' has 49, and that's tops. I think CBS would have been happy if we had been able to manage a 36. Hah!"

Conrad Pleased

Conrad can enjoy his last laugh after the game of musical chairs with producers. He sounded off about the matter during the season, but now he's reluctant to discuss it. All's well, etc.

A Four-year veteran of "Hawaiian Eye," he couldn't be more pleased with "Wild, Wild West."

"It's an actor's dream—chasing the girlies, falling through buildings, getting on a horse now and then, James Bond devices in the West—the whole bag," he says.

Conrad is finishing up the first season, then he takes a brief respite and begins the second year—in color—on April 18. He figures the series to last four or five years, after which he plans to set himself up in the picture business.

Barbar McNair to Sing Oscar-Nominated Song

Barbara McNair has been named to sing one of the five nominated songs on the 38th Annual Awards Presentation Show of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences to be presented on the ABC-TV Network —for the first time in color— and broadcast by the ABC Radio Network Monday, April 18 (10 p. m. to conclusion, EST), it was announced by program producer Joe Pasternak.

In her first appearance on the "Oscarcast," Miss McNair will sing "The Shadow Of Your Smile" from "The Sandpiper," written by Paul Francis Webster and Johnny Mandel.

Diane Varse, in scene from Dr. Kildare show.

Diane Varsi, Still a Mystery, Returns After 7-Year Absence

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — The original Allison MacKenzie is back on the screen after seven years.

Diane Varsi came back, that is, but Peyton Place didn't get her. Dr. Kildare did, for a two-part story in which she played a nurse suffering from a heart ailment who must decide for herself whether an operation can save her life.

As everyone knows by now, Diane Varsi herself is quite a decision maker when it comes to Diane Varsi. Seven years ago Miss Varsi, then 20, could have been one of Hollywood's biggest film stars following her impressive debut as Allison MacKenzie in the movie, "Peyton Place."

But after making three more movies she turned her back on Hollywood, went to live in Bennington, Vt., for two years, then returned to her native San Francisco. Now she has had two husbands, with a child by each.

As a Hollywood discovery seven years ago Diane became a Miss Enigma to press and studio executives.

Miss Enigma she still is, trying to explain what she did in Vermont for two years with the words:

"I was involved and involved with being involved."

Why she turned her back on Hollywood doesn't seem important to her. "I didn't think notice would be taken of my leaving," she says. At the time she explained, "I don't see any reason to be made miserable just because other people say I should go on with my career. Acting is destructive to me."

Being "back" doesn't seem important to her either.

"There isn't any back. No one goes back in time or space. There is nothing in my mind of coming back. I just want to do what seems to me to be worth doing. That's the joyful thing in life."

Not so joyful, obviously, to Diane Varsi was being under contract to 20th Century-Fox, which starred her in four movies.

The best clue to why she is back is that her seven-year Fox contract expired in November 1964. Until then she was under what studio attorneys called "suspension for refusal to work." She was not paid during those seven years, during which the studio refused to release her from the contract and prohibited her from working elsewhere.

Now that she's free of the contract Diane is making decisions again. But now she must decide for herself whether the roles she plays can save her career.

Faces of Men From U.N.C.L.E.

BY JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Those ubiquitous men from U.N.C.L.E., in the second half of their second television season are more popular than ever.

Two feature films made up of two episodes from NBC-TV's The Man From U.N.C.L.E. and a half-hour of additional material have been making steady profits in cities like Boston, Washington, Detroit, Toronton and Houston.

David McCallum, the sly Ilya Kuryakin, on a scheduled personal appearance at Macy's in New York, attracted 15,000 screaming teen-agers who caused such a crush in the store that David, hiding out in the executive dining room, was advised that it would be dangerous for him—and the girls—if he appeared. He didn't.

Robert Vaughn, the suave Napoleon Solo, gave the politically oriented speech in Pittsburgh and caused some controversy among those who disagreed with his opinion. (He criticized American foreign policy in iVet Nam.)

Between them, Vaughn and McCallum have made guest appearances on so many television shows you get the idea that someone at MGM, where the series is filmed, has run the boys through a duplcating machine and is sending out copies for guest shots.

The series even has produced a spin-off series which will begin next season. Its name? The Girl From U.N.C.L.E.

McCallum, whose Scottish background is musical and whose father is a violinist with Mantovani's orchestra, has produced, conducted and composed some of the songs on a new Capitol record album called "Music—A Part of Me."

McCallum decidedly is the busier of the two. He has made a film called "Around the World Under the Sea," set for summer release, and has signed to make another film, after sifting through some 30 offers.

"I had it in the back of my mind when I came to the United States that I would stay here," McCallum said. "I have always planned everything very carefully and the logical progression of my career after I finished a film and did some roles on other television shows was a series."

McCallum is a 32-year-old father of three boys. He has penetrating blue eyes (when he looks at you, you know you are being looked at), blond hair he keeps cutting shorter, and a fine, straight nose. He photographs a young 25. In person he looks so young you somehow expect to see him carrying schoolbooks under his arm.

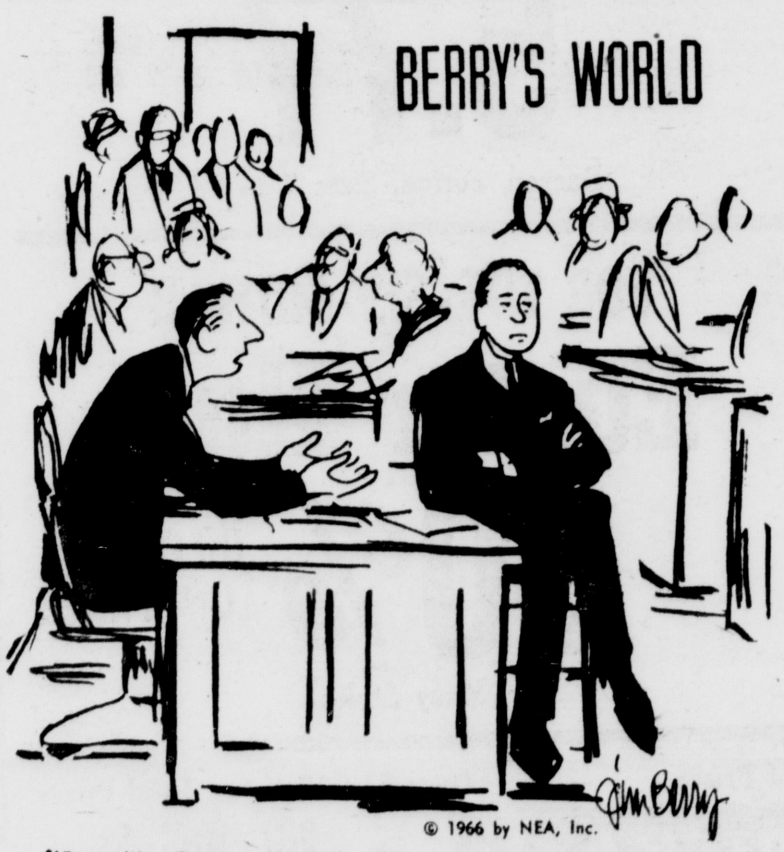

Ivan Tors, who produced "Around the World Under the Sea," says David has the most intense concentration he has ever seen in any actor. "He could stand for hours in front of an animal and watch. This combination of observation and concentration is what makes him such a great actor."

"When I was first inU.N.C.L.E. no one noticed me," McCallum said. "I did all the odd jobs. But I did not want to be the man who brings in the sandwiches and stands around while everyone else talks.

"I told them I either wanted to be really in the script or written out. They wrote me out of so many scripts that I began to have regrets.

"I suppose now I am getting closer to the 'leading man' type, as they call it." McCallum added. ,.I'm rather an uncommon leading man. I'm not tall. I'm not ruggedly handsome. In fact, I'm downright ugly.

"I do all the stunts myself except those the insurance company won't let me do. Actually, they have clamped down this year. Last year they couldn't find a double for me. Obviously they figured we would only be on one year, so they let me do them all. It didn't matter last year if I killed myself."

"But, Mr. Benny, if you're 39—you don't HAVE to sign up for Medicare!"

Africa U.S.A.

Daktari is filmed at a place in California called Africa, U. S. A. It's a great lure for children of stars and Daktari producer Ivan Tors reports that one day recently David McCallum and his three sons visited Africa, U. S. A., along with Tors' own three boys. And, with all those wild animals around, what did they all do? "They spent the time, "Tors says, searching for tadpoles."

Meet Ken Berry, Star of 'F' Troop

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON

Hollywood—When your hometown gives you a "Day"—well, Ken Berry figured he should be co-operative.

It was the reason he changed clothes in the washroom on the plane flight from Chicago to Moline, Ill.

Would Ken please be wearing his F Troop uniform "when you step off the plane on arrival in Moline," the city's arrangement committee for "Ken Berry Day" had wired him in Hollywood.

With the uniform in a flight bag, he had left his seat as unobtrusively as possible to change from a brown business suit to the bule uniform with bright yellow kerchief of the Civil War's Union Army.

The return to his seat was, to say the least, the most eventful moment of the flight for the passengers of the plane, not to mention the stewardess who laughed all the way down the aisle to seat 8B.

And what are you supposed to be?" she asked.

"Oh," cringed Ken, "I'm promoting a TV show."

Obviously not an F troop fan, the stewardess asked, "What TV show?"

"F Troop," replied Ken.

"Oh," said the stewardess, returning to her coffee, tea or milk stand. But in a minute she was back, Ken grinned in telling the story on himself between scenes at Fort Courage at Warner Bros. "This time she had an autograph book, which she asked me to sign."

With the plane's arrival in Moline, where Ken was met by a band, the mayor and a thousand fans, the stewardess was impressed as the other passengers.

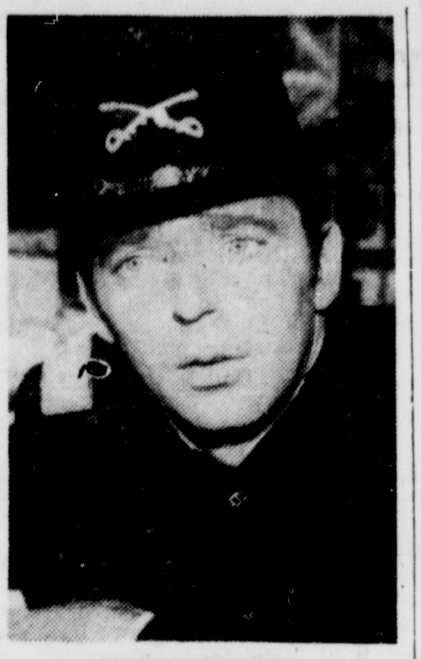

So was Ken, for that matter. "Nothing like that had ever happened to me since I was mustered out of the army after the Korean war and left Moline to go back into show business."

Show business was the business he learned to love at 15 as a singer-dancer who went on a tour of Europe with Horace Heidt as a "Youth Opportunity" winner.

Moline's gift of a "Day" to him was a tribute to his comedy talents as Capt. Parmenter the scatter-brained .commander of Fort Courage in ABC-TV's F Troop.

Until F Troop, Ken was still in the singer-dancer category with only a few straight acting roles to his credit. He moved around the country so much that he didn't even change his routine, which always included a closing number backgrounded by the music "There'll Be Some Changes Made."

"People even kidded me, saying, 'Ken, you should make some changes.'"

Programs Involving Audience Proving Big Hit on Television

RANDOR, PA.—Television has gone far beyond the stage where the viewer was expected to sit back, relax and watch the action.

The viewer is now becoming more involved in special local and network programs that seek his views and opinions, TV Guide magazine reports (April 2).

The movement started innocently enough in Chicago in 1963 when Station WBBM-TV, a CBS outlet, decided to sample viewers' opinions on city traffic conditions. They distributed ballots around town and then asked a series of opinion questions on the air. The result was some 17,000 replies — a response that almost swamped station officials.

The audience testing technique later moved to the networks and now ABC, CBS and NBC have successfully used the method and plan more shows along the same lines in the future.

Chiefly responsible for setting the trend was Clark George, then general manager of WBBM-TV and now general manager of Station WCBS-TV, New York. George read a study of television in which the viewer expressed a desire to participate more actively, to test himself.

George and the late Dr. Gary Steiner, a University of Chicago psychologist, devised a system of printing ballots in local newspapers, and that evening a five-minute opinion poll was included on the late night news. Viewers were asked to mail in their views.

The show "Feedback" now uses punch cards and has 60,000 panel members in Chicago. Answers can be tabulated within 72 hours. George brought "Feedback" to New York and it has a panel of 100,000 members. plus a scientifically selected sample of 2,000 adults who are supervised via telephone as a cross-check.

Duke Joins Academy Show

Patty Duke, ABC Television star and former Academy Award winner, has been named to the cast of the 38th Annual Awards Show of the Motion Picture Arts and Sciences to be presented on the ABC-TV Network—for the first time in color—and broadcast by the ABC Radio Network Monday, April 18 (10 p. m. to conclusion, EST), it was announced by program producer Joe Pasternak.

Miss Duke won the Supporting Actress Award in 1962 for her performances in The Miracle Worker."

matter of fact

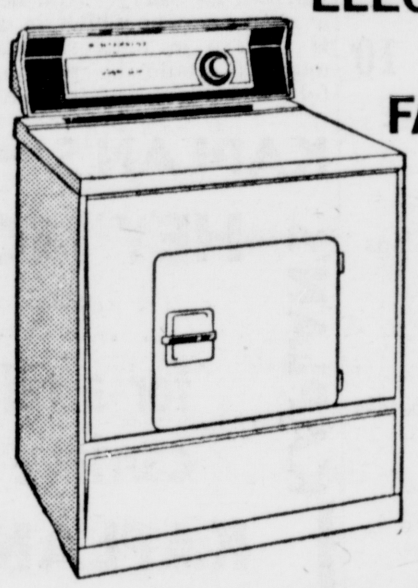

Proud Californians may not wish to acknowledge the existence millions of years ago of another type of mighty redwood tree. But there was one. The dawn redwood, the most abundant fossil conifer of the northern hemisphere, appeared during the age of the dinosaurs and became extinct in North America and Europe during the Miocene epoch some 15 million years ago. It lingered on into the Pliocene epoch in Japan, and in the 1940s was found living in remote valleys of China.

Carol Willing

When Garrry Moore launches his new series next season on CBS, he won't have any trouble rounding up Carol Burnett as a guest.

"All he has to do is ask me," she told TV Scout. 'I wouldn't be a regular again, but I would certainly love working with Garry on a show or two."

Douglas Booster

Carol Burnett is a great booster of Mike Douglas, whose daytime syndicated show is very popular .She was a recent guest with Douglas, and praised him as having the same qualities of warmth as Garry. "And he's also a good singer, which is a plus. If I were in network programming ,I would be pushing this fellow for a nighttime show."

STATION BREAK

"I'm sorry, Ed, but your idea for a show is so good that it'd upset the balance of the rest of our programming if we put it on!"

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Harold Wilson, in the final days of campaigning in Thursday's British elections, lectured foreign TV reporters for filming hecklers at a meeting instead of concentrating on the speakers and issues. NBC, in its early news show Wednesday night, carried parts of the lecture — and the hecklers' activities.

Television reporters, admonished Mr. Wilson, were not invited "to encourage people to kick up a row for the sake of exhibitionism."

People Hams All Over

But the truth is that people are hams wherever they live and TV cameramen, like all reporters, will report on the action.

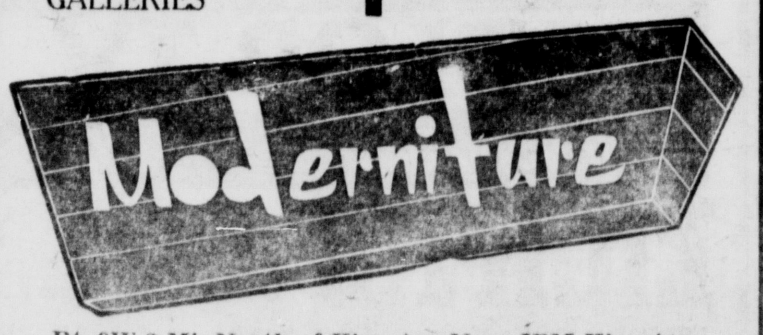

On a recent news show, a correspondent was describing serious disturbances and troop action in a political upheaval in Indonesia. Tanks and trucks with uniformed men rumbled past the cameras — but the trucks were filled with smiling, mugging, waving men, all acting like the audience at the Johnny Carson Show.

ABC, which reshuffled its schedule drastically only a couple of months ago, will do it some more in July. In the process, "The Baron," a new British import, will disappear — and a second night of movies reruns will be added.

"The Big Valley" will go from Wednesday night to Monday — its position for next season — on July 18. The present occupant of the Monday night spot, "The Avengers" goes into "The Baron's " Thursday night niche on July 21. "Long Hot Summer" has its last show on July 13, thus opening a two-hour spot in which ABC will rerun movies already shown on Sunday night.

California's Governor Brown On 'Opinion in the Capital'

Governor Edmund "Pat" Brown, candidate for a third term as chief executive of California, will be interviewed on "Opinion In The Capital" over WNEW-TV (Channel 5), Sunday, April 3, 11:00-11:30 p. m.

The interview with Governor Brown is a follow-up of a previous interview with Mayor Sam Yorty, his opponent in the Democratic primary. Both programs were video-taped in the Metromedia studios in Los Angeles.

Governor Brown discusses such issues as the role of Jesse Unruh, Democratic political boss, in the campaign; his reasons for seeking a third term; the candidacy for Lt. Governor of Lloyd Hand, former Chief of Protocol; and his record as Governor.

Governor Brown is interviewed by Mark Evans, Vice President for Public Affairs, Meromedia, Inc., and Alex Dreier, news commentator for KTTV, the Metromedia station in Los Angles.

"Opinion In The Capital" is produced and presented by WTTG and Florence Lowe in Washington, D.C., and shown over WNEW-TV in New York. Both WTTG and WNEW-TV are members of Metropolitan Broadcasting Television, a division of Metromedia, Inc., with WNEW-TV being the flagship station.

Former Cardinal

John Larch, that very fine actor who was a regular in Convoy earlier this season, would have been a professional baseball player had it not been for a sore arm. "I had the great thrill of being signed by Branch Rickey to a contract for the St. Louis Cardinals."

Liza Minnelli Will Sing Oscar Song

Fast-rising young star Liza Minnelli has been named to sing one of the five nominated songs on the 38th Annual Awards Presentation Show of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences to be presented on the ABC-TV Network—for the first time in color—and broadcast by the ABC Radio Network Monday, April 18 (10 p. m. to conclusion, EST), it was announced by program producer Joe Pasternak.

For her first appearance on the "Oscarcast," Miss Minnelli whose mother, Judy Garland was featured in a vocal medley on last year's program, will sing the title tune from "What's New Pussycat?", written by Hal David and Burt Bacharach.

Will Repeat Documentary; Rave Reviews

"A sage of tragedy and triumph . . . its cumulative effect is overpowering."

"A smashing, frightening real-life portrayal . . . a sobering hour of hard-hitting TV which all should see."

"Beyond description in its galvanic emotional wallop."

Such phrases, gleaned from newspaper reviews from all parts of the country, reflect the nationwide critical acclaim that greeted "Let My People Go" when the hour-long documentary special about the Jewish people's struggle for a homeland was originally presented by Xerox Corporation last year.

The program has also been nominated by the Academy of Motion Picture & Sciences this year for an Oscar award as the best "Documentary Feature" of the year.

Because of such praise, the program will be rerun here on April 3, on WNEW-TV, from 10:00-11:00 P. M.; on WOR-TV from 9:00-10:00 P. M.; and on WPIX from 8:00-9:00 P. M.

Written and produced by Marshall Flaum for Wolper Productions, "Let My People Go" traces the history of the Jews from the time they were forced into exile in the 1st Century A.D. to the creation of the Government of Israel in 1948.

The unusual film footage has elicited the critics' plaudits. An upstate New York reviewer, for example, remarked: "Some of the footage hits with quiet but strong impact. Other parts cut into the viewer with the savagenss of a very blunt knife."

The New York critics joined in the applause. " 'Let My People Go' seared the viewer's consciousness," said the New York Times' Jack Gould. "An exciting hour," said John Horn of the Herald Tribune. "A memorable documentary" was Variety's comment.

WNEW-TV is the flagship station of Metropolitan Broadcasting Television, a division of Metromedia, Inc.

Dolores Del Rio Joins Academy Awards Show

Glamorous Latin American actress Dolores Del Rio has been named to the cast of the 38th Annual Awards Show of the Motion Picture Arts and Sciences to be presented on the ABC-TV network—for the first time in color—and broadcast by the ABC Radio Network Monday, April 18 (10 p. m. to conclusion, EST), it was announced by program producer Joe Pasternak.

TV Scout Reports

Robert Vaughn is a big fan of Angela Lansbury, who is now in rehearsal for the Broadway musical, "Mame," the musical version of "Auntie Mame."

When she worked on The Man From U.N.C.L.E., she was given a new scene with seven pages of dialogue just before the lunch break. She was told they were going to film it that afternoon.

"Nothing fazes her," Vaughn told TV Scout. "Ninety per cent of the ingenues would have called their psychiatrists, agent, manager and then fainted for good measure if that happened to them. She also has more sex appeal than all the others combined."

Anthony Roberts, who is in Edge of Night, and also on Broadway in "Barefoot in the Park," appeared in a segment of The Defenders in which he played a tough kid who beat up Brandon De Wilde.

"We shot the scene on location outside the Bronx County Courthouse," Tony recalled. "A lot of neighborhood kids were around watching us film. Then when we broke for lunch, they all wanted to fight me. I wasn't anxious for the crew to leave without me."

Susan Strasberg and Fritz Weaver join the regulars Gig Young and Charles Boyer in an international swindle on "The Rogues" Monday, April 4 at 8:00 P. M.

Carol Burnett and Eileen Farrell once had plans to make a record album together. "We even went so far as to pick the songs we were going to do," Miss Farrell told TV Scout, "But we could never get together for a recording date."

Sunday Viewers Offered National Trivia Test

The lobby of the Americana Hotel will never be the same after the producers of the National trivia Test" visited it to film sequences which will be shown on the WNEW-TV program.

The cross section of populace from every part of the country was stumped by many of the questions. For instance, nobody could remember the three actors who have played the role of Charlie Chan. Can you? But there were equally surprising incidents when some people told wonderful anecdotes about their own trivia trove.

The producers also interviewed five pregnant women, the Americana's meat cutters, bellhops, barbers and plumbers, to find out their TQ (Trivia Quotient).

Pocketbooks Inc. will validate the questions to be asked on the program. Their book "Trivia: An Insignificant Book" by the Cornell (University) Widow staff, which will feature an advertisement of the program on its fly-leaf, will be published on Monday, April 4.

"The National trivia Test" will be seen on WNEW-TV (Channel 5) on April 3, at 8:00-9:00 p. m., and repeated on April 7, from 10:00-11:00 p. m. The program is written and produced by Harry Moses and Paul Noble, and directed by Arthur Forrest. WNEW-TV is the flagship station of Metropolitan Broadcasting Television, a division of Metromedia, Inc.

TV Questions & Answers

WINNER IN RATINGS—Is Lost in Space going to be back on CBS-TV next season?—C. H., Niagara Falls, N.Y.

The network says, "yes." Although not one of the most popular shows on the air, it has consistently kept a large audience every week and has never been in trouble.

RUNS IN FAMILY—Is Nancy Sinatra the daughter of Frank Sinatra? Is she from England?—C.R., Miami, Fla.

Yes to the first question; no to the second. Nancy, 25, was born in Jersey City, N.J.

STAYING POWER—I say Bonanza used to be on Saturday nights. My sister says it has always been on Sundays. Who is right?—Dickie Olson, San Antonio, Tex.

You win. When the western series premiered in 1959 it was on Saturday nights. It moved to Sundays for the 1961-62 season, and has been there ever since.

TORPEDOES FOR BOTH—Why did The Sammy Davis Jr. Show replace Convoy? — Mrs. Jack Eaton, San Angelo, Tex.

Convoy's ratings were poor and it was dropped. Sammy's ratings have been poor and he will be dropped in April. Replacing it will be re-runs of old Sing Along With Mitch shows.

MISSING MA—What ever happened to the actress who used to play Ma Perkins on the old radio soap opera?—Mrs. Lee Malone, Harlan, Ind.

Virginia Payne played the role and she has been busy in recent years acting on stage. She was featured in the Carol Burnett Broadway musical, "Fade Out, Fade in." She is currently a member of the resident acting company of the Alley Theater, Houston, Tex.
